Interesting Crime Age

—By Arthur Brisbane—

Copyright, 1929, King Features Synd., Inc.

IF MEN ARE welcome in proportion to their deeds on earth, there will be a special committee of welcome to meet John D. Rockefeller when he arrives. May it be 50 years hence.

Yesterday President Angell of Yale University announced a gift of $2,000,000 from Mr. Rockefeller for expansion of Yale's medical department, the building of a laboratory, etc.

Mr. Rockefeller is the only man that has given away HUNDREDS OF MILLIONS OF DOLLARS. Since people do not know enough to use their unlimited resources for their own welfare, they are fortunate in having intelligent men that collect hundreds of millions and spend them usefully for education, health, scientific research, combating disease, etc.

In Chicago Coroner Hundeson wants to know who the gentlemen were that stood seven gangsters with their faces to the wall "frisked" them, then killed them all by machine gun fire.

The coroner is warned that if he continues his tactless efforts to convict the guilty, he will be "bumped off." When Chicago gangsters say it, they mean it.

The late Billy McGlory, of New York, dive-keeper and well informed, long ago said to two young New York Sun reporters, "You boys ought to get a trotting horse and buggy and spend the afternoon on the road among the roadhouses. Not a week that you wouldn't get a couple of hundred dollars for not seeing what you might see."

At Laredo, Tex., Harry Williams, newspaper reporter, 24 years old, is shot dead, after seeing things that border smugglers did not want him to see.

He knew too much about smuggling whiskey, drugs, Chinese and other laborers across the borders, and will write no more reports.

Texas bankers pay $5000 in genuine cash to anybody that kills a bank robber.

Several have been accused of killing and collecting rewards on gentlemen that were not robbers at all, others are accused of "framing" would-be burglars, arranging with them to rob a bank and killing them in the process. A sure and "lawful" way of getting money.

It is not likely that the rewards will be given up, for the Texas bankers say they pay.

It makes bandits uncomfortable to know that anybody who shoots a hole through them will get $5000, and Texas bank robberies have diminished.

You enter, press a button in a dark room and light floods that room. We are used to that miracle. But this one is new. An airplane approaches a dark landing field, sounds a loud siren. Sound waves acting on the mechanical guard or robot immediately turns on the lights, floods the field and makes landing safe. And no human being plays any part, except the pilot with his siren.

The next step will be wireless power sent from the earth to airplanes in the air. Then there will be no need of refueling in flight, no need of a plane coming down. And that, perhaps, is not far away.

The New York Central Railroad installs radio apparatus on all its long freight trains. The men in the red cabooses at the far end will be able to talk through the air to the engineer, who can talk to them. This interests those old enough to remember when brakemen, at risk of their lives, raced along the icy tops of wooden cars in winter, jammed on hand brakes when the whistle blew.

One difficulty about holding up interest rates is the abundance of money with people that have it eager to lend it.

This forces call money down to 6 per cent, in spite of virtuous financiers seeking to protect the little people against themselves by making them pay 12 per cent on loans.

The grand jury in New York, contemplating prohibition here that does not prohibit, demands that buying liquor be made a crime.

If those that buy from bootleggers were put in jail, bootlegging would fall away.

Eminently "respectable" men are willing to treat the Constitution with contempt. But going to jail would be another matter, and being blackmailed by bootleg messengers would be annoying.

ROXBURY HOUSE WRECKED BY EXPLOSION OF BOILER

DOPE CASH FLAYED 'CRIMES'

By A. M. ROCHLEN

Copyright, 1929, by Los Angeles Examiner and Universal Service.

Los Angeles, Feb. 20.—Cash for crimes must go. The medical profession has struck at the vicious practice of accepting offers in compromise from violators of the Harrison narcotic act—the nation's principal defense against the dope menace.

NEW BRIBE CHARGE IN RITZ CASE

John F. Sullivan, hotel owner, testified today a liquor charge against him was dismissed after he had been promised by Albert Sidinger, one of the defendants, that "Judge Sullivan will know it's my case and you will be discharged." The case was put off for three weeks, however, before this discharge took place.

Blast Wrecked House — Girls Rocked in Beds

LIKE EARTHQUAKE SCENE

How the first floor of 139 Crawford st., Roxbury, looked after the explosion of hot water boiler early today. Firemen declared that foundation and frame are so damaged that the house will have to be demolished. This floor was unoccupied, but five persons upstairs were hurled from their beds. (Staff photos.)

NEIGHBORHOOD SHAKEN

The explosion not only wrecked the house at 139, but rocked and damaged houses up and down the street. The Mandelstam family at 135 were rocked in their beds while windows all over the house were smashed. At 137 a front window was blown in and embedded in the wall of the living room.

5 HURLED FROM BEDS BY BLAST

With a roar that was heard for a mile, a hot-water boiler in the basement of a two-family house at No. 139 Crawford st., Roxbury, blew up today.

[illegible] were hurled from their beds. The explosion wrecked the entire neighborhood, and shattering window-panes up and down the street.

Stone foundations and walls of the house were pushed out of plumb, floors were lifted, electric fixtures, radiators and plumbing were wrecked, and a hole 12 feet in diameter was ripped in the front hall.

Neighbors, awakened by the explosion, dressed and rushed outdoors, until thousands of excited persons thronged the streets.

Police reserves were called to handle the crowd, which held its place after firemen flooded the basement of the wrecked house to prevent fire.

The first floor of the dwelling was unoccupied. Asleep on the second floor were Mrs. Rebecca Abrams, 50, widow of Meyer Abrams; her daughter, Minerva; two sons, Samuel J., 27, and Arthur F., 29, and a nephew, Bernard Kaufman, 23.

28 Governors to Be In Inaugural Parade

Washington, Feb. 20 (AP)—Governors of 28 states have signified their intention of participating in the inaugural parade on March 4. The order in which the Governors and their staffs will march is based on the order of admission to the Union of their respective states.

The states whose Governors thus far have indicated their intention to parade include Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Vermont and Maine.

GOODWIN IN STIRRING PLEA FOR INSURANCE

Predicting a saving of nearly $9,000,000 a year for Massachusetts auto owners under the proposed legislation, and pointing to "at least 10,000 fake claims" under the present law, Frank A. Goodwin, former motor vehicle registrar, at the State House today urged passage of the Goodwin-Boston Evening American bill.

The bill would establish a State fund to furnish automobile owners with compulsory liability insurance at cost.

Before a capacity crowd, this measure, known as House Bill No. 225, was given a hearing by the

SMITH TELLS OF GALLO AFFIDAVIT AT TRIAL

Louis Smith of Dorchester, who was a witness in the Gangi Cero trial, testified in Superior Court today that after Cero's conviction, Samuel Gallo of Revere endeavored to have Smith make affidavit that Cero was not the man Smith saw running through Prince st., North End.

It was in Prince st. that Joseph Fantasia was shot down in June, 1927. Gallo is now on trial for the murder while Cero, awaiting death in the electric chair, is arrayed against him as a government witness.

In the alleged attempt to have Smith make the affidavit, Gallo said, according to Smith:

"If I was to tell you that Gangi Cero was not the guy would it help you any if I told you it was me?"

Bay State Man Hurt in St Moritz Sports

While engaging in winter sports at St. Moritz, Switzerland, Harold Knowlton, 44, brother of Maj. George W. Knowlton of Beacon st., met with a serious accident and pneumonia has developed, according to a cablegram received today by his brother.

Knowlton and his wife had won prizes in sled contests this season. Maj. Knowlton was formerly prominent in public life in Upton and Harold Knowlton once was superintendent of the William Knowlton & Sons factory there.

Czechs Repudiate Archduke's Claim

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Feb. 20 (AP)—Recent judgment by the arbitral triounal at The Hague allowing a claim by Archduke Frederick of Hungary for several million against Czechoslovakia was repudiated today by Eduard Benes, foreign minister.

He said also Czechoslovakia would decline to allow any sort of foreign court to arbitrate similar claims arising from the confiscation of property, estates of former residents of the old Austro-Hungarian empire.

OPEN FELLSWAY DRAW CAUSES WORST TIEUP

One of the worst traffic tie-ups in years occurred today when the draw of Wellington bridge on the Fellsway between Medford and Somerville was opened and could not be closed, due, it was believed, to a broken motor part.

The Fellsway, leading into the northern artery, is one of the heaviest "feeders" of motor traffic from north of Boston and carries a trolley line serving Stoneham and a large part of Malden and Medford.

A string of trolley cars and automobiles stretched out on the boulevard for nearly a mile on the Medford side of the Mystic river. The "jam" also affected the Revere Beach boulevard.

Traffic had to be detoured through Medford sq., which is ordinarily a congested center, and there was a serious jam there.

Hundreds of commuters waited in the cold for trolley cars before they learned that they must make the longer trip through Medford or Malden sq. if they wanted to get to work.

The draw was opened at 7 a. m. to let a small boat go through. The entire rush-hour period had passed with the bridge still open.

PHYSICIANS OF NATION STRIKE AT DRUG EVIL COMPROMISES

RESOLVE CONDEMNING CASH PAYMENTS IS PASSED

by the Hearst newspapers that the federal government accepts cash settlements for infractions of the narcotic laws, and by their own observations of the widespread effects of this evil, the Federation of Medical Examining Boards of the United States passed a strong resolution protesting against the system.

The organization, now in session in Chicago, probably is better qualified than any other organization to see the effects of the compromise policy on unethical physicians who prostitute their high calling by turning a valuable medicinal remedy into tortures of a living death.

The sentiment expressed by the men entrusted by the various states with safeguarding the medical standards in the United States is one of the strongest approval of the Hearst newspapers' stand on this vital question.

Together with the statements of the Narcotic Research Association of the Pacific coast—which has enlisted the aid of more than 5000 organizations west of the Rocky Mountains and the thousands of endorsements from leading educators physicians and State and city officials, the resolution of the federated medical boards makes it certain that a congressional investigation of the dope evil will include every phase of the "compromise" system.

The Chicago resolution, a copy of which was sent to the Los Angeles Examiner and other Hearst newspapers, read:

"Whereas, it has come to the attention of the Federation of Medical Examining Boards of the United States that those engaged in enforcement of the Harrison narcotic laws have adopted the policy of settling out of court certain cases involving violations of the narcotic laws by accepting cash payments in compromise and whereas, such procedure makes enforcement less effective therefore be it resolved, that the Federation of Medical Examining Boards of the United States in annual session convened at the Palmer House, Chicago, this 19th day of February, 1929, voices its disapproval of settlements of violations in compromises and be it resolved, that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the proper federal authorities at Washington, D. C."

California Physicians Approve Resolution

Dr. Charles B. Pinkham and Dr. Percey Phillips, secretary and president of the California Board of Medical Examiners, voted for this resolution.

Dr. Pinkham is the veteran medical officer of the State, who for years battled against secrecy in the federal compromise cases, and who finally obtained, with the help of State Senator Sanborn Young, modification of the rigid rules that hampered State boards in efforts to punish doctors who escaped prosecution by cash payments.

While the federated State boards were passing the Chicago resolution, leaders in the fight against the dope evil in California were introducing resolutions before the Legislature at Sacramento, in preparation for a more thorough and scientific fight against dope and its horrors.

The California resolutions, introduced by Assemblyman E. S. Leymel of Fresno in the assembly and by Senator Young in the Upper House, ask for sanction to continue the State Narcotic Committee in order that illicit drug traffic may be studied and remedies worked out.

Pinkham Is Absolutely Opposed to Compromise

"At the present time in California, a compromise, since it does not constitute a conviction, immunizes a physician against a medical board trial," Dr. Phillips said.

"The board's hands are tied because all evidence is in possession of the Internal Revenue Department.

"Physicians can repeatedly pay cash in compromise for violation and still remain in good standing.

"An amendment introduced by the Board of Medical Examiners, and now before the California Legislature, puts compromise on the same status as a conviction, and, even when a physician has paid full compromise, if that law is passed he must go before the Board of Medical Examiners on revocation proceedings.

"This law should greatly discourage compromise in California and be a protection for ethical physicians."

Dr. Pinkham added:

"I am absolutely opposed to any compromise of any violation of Harrison narcotic act and am greatly interested in anything concerning anti-narcotic enforcement."

As a State official who made a fight against the policy of cash for crimes and secrecy around these financial transactions, Dr. Pinkham was in position to know just how flagrant are some of the cases that Washington characterizes as "technical."

And here is Dr. Pinkham's answer to the defense of the federal officials who justify the principle of accepting money for dope law violations because the law under which they operate is considered by them as a revenue measure and not a penal act:

"At least two compromises that have come to my attention in the past few years were major violations. No one can tell how many bad cases involving real flagrant criminal acts, have escaped our attention. This secrecy is one of the bad features of the system.

"I would say that cash compromises most certainly hinder law enforcement and control of physicians who peddle dope."

SPEEDY ACTION ON DRUG PROBE PROMISED

By KENNETH CLARK

Washington, Feb. 20—Senate leaders have promised speedy action on the La Guardia-Wheeler joint resolution to investigate the narcotics traffic.

Stirred by the picture of the horrors of drug addiction drawn by Senator Reed (D) of Missouri, and Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, during the dramatic debate on prohibition, the Senate is ready to authorize the inquiry at the earliest possible opportunity, it was announced.

A canvass of senatorial opinion has revealed no opposition. Consequently, Senator King (D) of Utah, who was appointed by the judiciary committee to write the favorable report, declared he would ask for adoption of the resolution this week. He has obtained the endorsement of Republican and Democratic chiefs to this course.

MARKING TIME

On the desk of every Senator has been placed a copy of King's report, which said:

"Recent disclosures make it appear important to the committee that there be no delay in the enactment of the proposed legislation."

House leaders are marking time until the Senate acts.

"When the resolution is sent over from the Senate, I will take up the matter," said Rep. Snell (R) of New York, chairman of the rules committee, to which the resolution was referred.

PRAISED BY WHITE CROSS

Meanwhile, pledges of support of the inquiry continued to reach Rep. La Guardia (R) of New York, co-author, from authorities all over the country.

"The board of directors of the American White Cross instructed me as president to write you expressing the hearty approval of the American White Cross of the wonderful work you have done in so moving Congress that they will adopt your great measure for investigating the narcotic problem, wrote the Rev. Mark A. Matheus, of Seattle, president of the National Anti-Narcotic Society.

Crushed in Elevator; Hangs Unconscious for 20 Minutes

Albert Demers, 19, of Western ave., Lynn, chauffeur for a coal company, was crushed so badly today in a Lynn freight elevator that his name is on the danger list at Lynn Hospital. He was delivering a consignment of brooms at factory and was riding down on the elevator when some one on an upper floor started the elevator downward. Demers was caught between the wall and the moving floor and hung suspended and unconscious for 20 minutes before his plight was discovered.

3 SONS TO ACT AT FUNERAL

With three Boston priests, her sons, officiating at a requiem high mass, funeral services for Mrs. Abigail Cronin, 78, of St. Rose ave., Jamaica Plain, will be held at St. Thomas' Church, Jamaica Plain, at 10 o'clock Friday morning.

The funeral mass will be chanted by Rev. Daniel I. Cronin, S. J., of St. Ignatius' Church, Chestnut Hill; Rev. Neil A. Cronin, administrator of the Cathedral of the Holy Cross, and Rev. James V. Cronin of St. Catherine's Church, Somerville.

In addition to these sons, Mrs. Cronin is survived by three daughters and two other sons, Mrs. Josephine Chamberlain, Mrs. Alice Bailey, Miss Mary Cronin, Edward Cronin and John Cronin.

Mrs. Cronin was born in Macroon, County Cork, Ireland. Coming to this country when young, she settled in South Boston, where she spent the greater part of her life. Interment will be in Calvary cemetery.

Risks Life in Fire to Save Absent Family

A policeman nearly gave his life in a valiant but needless attempt to save the lives of persons he thought were asleep, but who were absent from the building at 72 Watts st., Chelsea, where flames of suspicious origin caused a loss of $6000 early today.

Patrolman John Cronin was found unconscious in the blazing building by firemen who responded to the alarm he had sounded a few minutes before.

Jail Canada Editor for Insult to King

Sudbury, Ont., Feb. 20 (AP)—For publishing articles held to be reflections on the king, Aarvo Vaara, editor of the Finnish newspaper Vapaus, was under sentence today to six months' imprisonment and a fine of $100 or two years in jail.

The articles, published Dec. 4, compared the comforts surrounding King George during his illness with the condition of the "working class."

Rich Drug Dealer Sentenced to Seven Years in Jail

Sacramento, Cal., Feb. 20—Sentence of seven years in federal prison and a fine of $1000 was imposed by Judge A. F. St. Sure on Paul Jacobs wealthy New Yorker and reputed nation-wide narcotics wholesaler, following conviction in the U. S. District Court Monday.

Sam Rose of Seattle and Jack Fallon of New York, trapped with Jacobs into sale of morphine to federal operatives, entered pleas of guilty and were sentenced to five years and to pay a $10 fine each.

KELLOGG WORLD COURT NOTE APPLAUDED

Geneva, Switzerland, Feb. 20 (AP)—League of Nation circles today were deeply interested in Secretary Kellogg's note to the governments suggesting the reopening of negotiations for adherence of the United States to the World Court.

Words frequently used characterizing the note were "reasonable" "broad-minded and opportune."

It was confidently expected that some formula could be found to safeguard American interests concerning the question of advisory opinions which proved the stumbling block in the original negotiations, and which, at the same time, will satisfy the League Council that its cherished right to ask advisory opinions of the court will not be imperiled.

The impression at Geneva was that Washington purposely made the note just prior to the arrival of Elihu Root to attend the March 11 meeting of the World Court judicial experts.

London, Feb. 20 (AP)—Pending examination of the text of the American note to the powers on the World Court, official comment is withheld in London.

The general reaction in Government circles, however, was that any proposal tending to remove the difficulties existing between the United States and Europe would be most cordially welcomed.

Solar Plexus Blow Kills Fighter in Ring

Cortland, N. Y., Feb. 20 (AP)—An inquest is to be held Thursday in the death of Edward T. Hammond, 25, of Syracuse, former army boxer, who died in the first round of a bout with "Tuffy" Morris of Cortland last night.

Hammond was formerly bantamweight and lightweight champion of the 29 Infantry at Ft. Benning, Ga. Coroner Chapin announced death was due to pulmonary collapse, probably caused by a blow to the solar plexus.

N. H. Colonial House Burns; Loss $125,000

Great Neck, N. Y., Feb. 20 (AP)—A white frame dwelling that had been moved here from New Hampshire several years ago and remodeled as a perfect example of colonial architecture was destroyed by fire today with a loss of $125,000.

The house was owned by Dexter Spalding. He purchased it a year ago from George Allen Richardson, who had caused its removal.

Cousin of Hoover Injured by Auto

Washington, Feb. 20 (AP) Just a few hours after the news of the Executive arrived, his cousin, George Hoover, an attorney for the Interstate Commerce Commission was run down by an automobile and carried to the hospital with a fractured leg and bruises.

Miss Fannie P. Dial, daughter of former Gov. Nathaniel B. Dial of South Carolina, was driving the car which struck Mr. Hoover.

Three With Riot Gun Are Arrested

Bridgeport, Ct., Feb. 20 (AP)—Three men armed with a riot gun two revolvers and a heavy cleaver were arrested in Nichols in an auto holdup. Police believe the men may have been members of a gang of bootleggers who held a grudge against a rival gang centered in Westbury and Torrington.

The men arrested are John Santore, 38, Henry Tirelli, 25, and John Cozza, 21, of Norwalk.

CUTTER TELLS OF MARVELOUS TRADE GROWTH

The visit of President-elect Hoover to Latin-America, increased traffic through the Panama Canal, and a larger volume of exports and imports to and from the United States contributed in making last year one of the greatest in economic progress in the history of Central and South America.

So stated Victor M. Cutter, president of the United Fruit Company, in his report to stockholders at the annual meeting of the company today.

To mention the increased trade requirements, the United Fruit Company had kept pace with the demands of shippers, both in the United States and in the Caribbean countries, the report stated.

"The year 1928 witnessed the first constructive legislation looking forward to the re-establishment of the American Merchant Marine," said Mr. Cutter.

To build up and successfully maintain the merchant marine called for a liberal interpretation and modification of the Jones-White law. This law, Mr. Cutter believed, marked only the beginning of the determination to place the American merchant marine in a favorable position to compete for the further development of world commerce.

"The United Fruit Company has been a material factor in the development of trade between the United States, the West Indies, Central and South America," stated Mr. Cutter, "but the time is rapidly approaching when we shall have to supplant our present fleet with larger and faster ships to meet increasing foreign competition."

The report referred to the sixth Pan-American conference held in Havana last year and stated that problems were discussed which should result in improved cooperation and understanding between the American republics.

"The past year in the Caribbean countries has been one of distinct progress," the report stated. "Whatever disturbances there were of minor importance and these countries are steadily marching on to greater agricultural, industrial and civic stability.

"We have aided in the natural development of commerce and communication between the people of the United States and those of the Caribbean countries. Above all, this company realizes its opportunity to be of material service, for in this opportunity lies the continuation of the commercial era of usefulness in the Caribbeans."

Flu Cases for Week in 59 Cities Total 318

Washington, Feb. 20 (INS)—Deaths from influenza in 59 principal cities the week ending February 16 numbered 318, as compared to 339 the preceding seven days, the Census Bureau announced today.

Pneumonia deaths were 451 for the current week, compared to 1423 in 63 cities. New York city led both lists with 61 influenza and 253 pneumonia deaths.

Should Get Odds Betting on Lindy

New York, Feb. 20—One Harry Cunningham, who won a $5 bill on a wager that Lindbergh would get to Paris, asked the Colonel to autograph it. The Colonel was unwilling to mutilate the bill. He wrote his name on a piece of paper and suggested that Cunningham attach it to the bill.

"You should have got more than even money on that bet," he remarked.

which Nicholas Cockinos, Watch and Ward agent, and three others are on trial in Suffolk Superior Court, was given today by John F. Sullivan, proprietor of the Ritz Hotel on Columbus ave.

This testimony was brought out from Sullivan, who is a government witness, under cross examination by George A. Douglass, attorney for Cockinos.

Sullivan declared:

"Someone had been into the hotel and was trying to get $500 for Mr. Perry, a Watch and Ward agent."

Mention of a second Watch and Ward Society agent caused a stir in the crowded courtroom. Cockinos is the only agent of the society on trial.

A Watch and Ward agent named Perry was a witness in the case against five waiters of the Ritz Hotel last April, out of which the present case developed. He testified that his wife and he purchased liquor in the Rathskeller of the hotel and in his room there.

"Did you talk with Cockinos on the telephone?" Sullivan was asked by Atty. Douglass. He said he did and added that he had asked Cockinos to come right over to the hotel.

"Why did you want him to come right over?"

TO CONVINCE COCKINOS.

"Somebody had been trying to get $5000 for Mr. Perry, a Watch and Ward agent."

"Well, why did you want Cockinos there if your counsel was with you?"

"If they came in to collect the $5000, the officers would be right in the house, and I wanted to convince Cockinos that we were not trying to interfere with any of the witnesses in the case."

"You were discharged every time you were arrested, weren't you?"

"Yes."

"Why, then, were you so much concerned over this case?

"Because my business was at stake."

"Didn't you say Cockinos said 'We will not hold you responsible?'"

"Yes, Cockinos said: 'You can keep the dining room open for $100 a week—we'll guarantee protection. I'll drop in once a month and put the O. K. on the place.' Cockinos said to have the case postponed three weeks. He said: 'If the report had not gone in we'd squash the whole thing.'"

Q.—Every time you met Cockinos he always said: "I'll be your friend"? A.—Yes.

Q.—Were you alone when Cockinos came to the hotel? A.—Yes I met him in the lobby. There was no one there. I took him into the ladies' parlor, where we talked.

SMITH WITNESS IN GALLO CASE

his address on the stand only after much hesitation and much urging said he talked with Gallo "three or four times" relative to the affidavit.

At one of the talks, according to Smith, the brother of Coro, and also a third man, were present.

Eventually he refused to sign the affidavit prepared by Gallo, witness testified, and he told Asst. Dist.-Atty. William H. McDonnell, prosecuting the case, of the attempts to have him sign.

Smith testified that he was in Prince st on the murder date distributing vending machines and heard a shot.

He saw a man fall, he said, and saw another man running. The running man passed Smith who joined in the chase and saw the runner dart into a lunchroom and candy store and remove his coat.

Then, Smith said, he stepped into a cigar store on the opposite side of the street and called the police. When they arrived he went with them into the candy store and pointed out a man who proved to be Coro.

5 Dead, 12 Dying, 200 Hurt in R.R. Wreck

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 20 (AP)—At least five men are known to have been killed and a dozen others were injured so seriously they may die, when four coaches of an eleven-car train of the Peoria Terminal Railway was overturned and caught fire today near Hollis, Ill., ten miles south of here.

Two hundred out of 250 miners who were on their way to work were injured.

Vatican City, Feb. 20 (AP)—Cardinal Vico, 82, prefect of the Sacred Congregation of Rites, who has been gravely ill, took a turn for the worse today and his relatives were summoned.

HOMES ARE ROCKED BY EXPLOSION

Kaufman said he was awakened by being hurled from bed, and while on the floor saw the bed rising in the air. He ran into the corridor shouting an alarm, but found all the others had undergone similar experiences, and were huddled dazedly in a group.

Kaufman made his way to the street, and running to the corner of Walnut ave. and Crawford st. turned in a fire alarm.

In the meantime the Abrams boys cleared a path through the debris littering the front stairs and escorted their mother and sister to the street. Mrs. Abrams was hysterical and it was necessary to carry her. The family took refuge with a neighbor.

Firemen found the house so damaged that they declared it will probably be necessary to tear the structure down and rebuild it.

The boiler had been blown to pieces and the force of the explosion was so great that the basement was filled with stones and debris, the foundations leaning perilously outward.

FLOOR RIPPED UP

Sections of the first floor had been ripped up like matchwood, and in some places was raised two feet. Heavy radiators were flung across the rooms, electric fixtures torn from the ceiling and the doors of the house were hanging out.

The plumbing was twisted and bent, and the sun parlor windows on the front of the house had been blown across the street.

On the second story, in the Abrams apartment, floors were lifted, furniture thrown about, dishes broken, pictures knocked from the walls and radiators torn from their fastenings.

OTHER HOUSES DAMAGED

The home of Samuel Rosenbaum, at No. 131 Crawford st., where the Abrams family took refuge, also suffered. Windows on the side near the scene of the explosion, and in the front of the house were broken and dishes were smashed.

The three-family dwelling at No. 137 Crawford st. received more or less damage, windows, front and side being broken, glass from one of the front windows being driven across the street and embedded in the wall. Keys were ripped out of a white harp, a musical instrument in the front room, and its finish was scratched by flying glass.

The first floor of the home is occupied by Boris Hoffman, his wife, Frieda; their son, Benjamin, 8; and Betty, and their child Ta-ma, four years old. All were shaken up and Mrs. Frieda Hoffman suffered from shock, when broken glass was heaped on her head.

The entire district felt the force of the explosion, the houses rocking as though in the grip of an earthquake. Among those who were shaken up were Miss Jean Smith, at 135 Crawford st., and four sisters at the same address, the Misses Rose, Rae, Mina and Edith Mandelstam.

BOUILLON ON HUB AIR LINER.

Bouillon and tea and coffee will be served by stewards on the passenger air runs between Boston and New York, it was announced in April, it was announced today in New York by Gen. John F. O'Ryan, president of Colonial Air Transport, Inc.

Planes will leave each airport at 10:30 a. m. and at 4:30 p. m., daily. On the morning trips the stewards will serve bouillon to the passengers and on the afternoon trips tea and coffee.

There will be books, magazines, writing materials and a radio aboard each of the three big Ford tri-motor monoplanes in the passenger service. Each ship will carry two pilots and the flying time between ports will be one hour and 45 minutes.

5 NEWSPAPERS BANNED

Mexico City, Feb. 20 (INS)—Five Mexico City newspapers that printed a statement from the Catholic hierarchy on Monday criticizing President Portes Gil's registration order for religious societies, were officially proscribed today as enemies of the Mexican Government.

The statement was signed by Bishop Miguel de la Mora, acting head of the Catholic heirarchy in Mexico.

The newspapers are confronted with the confiscation of their properties.

The statement called President Portes Gil's registration order "humiliating" and left it to the priests whether or not they should register their residence.

In College Togs

St. Louis, Feb. 20 (INS)—Two bandits dressed like college boys today held up the Maplewood State Bank at Maplewood, Mo., a St. Louis suburb, kidnaped the cashier, Edward Steffans and escaped with about $800 today.

Forced Landing

An airplane, piloted by Harold Christensen of the Boston Airport, made a forced landing on the icy surface of the Eastern-ave meadows in Dedham. A wing of the plane was broken and the landing gear was badly damaged.

CORONER PRAISES TEMPERANCE PLAN

EX-HOOVER CHIEF ALSO LAUDS IT

"The alcohol hand on the clock of death continues to click off lives with sickening certainty. Thousands in the United States are paying the penalty exacted by the demon, moonshine. Not to speak of those blinded and insane and the victims of vice and crime resulting from the consumption of raw moonshine and poisonous varieties of liquor."

This expression came to the Hearst $25,000 Temperance Prize Contest headquarters in New York from Dr. Herman N. Bundesen of Chicago, coroner of Cook County, Illinois, who has had full opportunity to study the workings of prohibition.

In an interview given to the Chicago Herald-Examiner, Dr. Bundesen expressed appreciation of the $25,000 offer of William Randolph Hearst for a practicable temperance substitute for prohibition, and added:

"The coroner's office has come to a realization of the havoc wrought by moonshine and bootleg whiskey that has flooded the country since the Eighteenth Amendment was enacted.

'EXPOSE CONDITIONS'

"That something should be done to stop it is apparent to all and probably the first and foremost action would be to expose the conditions that exist to the cleansing light of universal knowledge, since all these things maintain themselves almost entirely on public ignorance.

"The Hearst plan to obtain a remedy for this condition is one worthy of the highest praise. From among the thousands of solutions offered, surely great help will come."

Frank Illiolis also comes another interview with James W. Good, of Evanston, prominent Republican who will be remembered as the western campaign manager for Herbert Hoover. Good declares:

"The entire situation as regards prohibition has come down to the question that Mr. Hearst has submitted for solution. The country is indebted to Mr. Hearst for his intelligent, patriotic stand in starting this movement which will cause people to think as to the best way of settling one of the greatest questions, if not the greatest question, confronting the nation.

THOUSANDS OF PLANS

"More people will study the problem of how the legal status of prohibition may be treated, whether by the Congress or by states, soberly and dispassionately. Personally, I feel that the outright repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment for another decade is out of the question."

The Temperance Prize Contest continues to attract floods of laudatory letters, accompanied by entries of plans seeking to win the capital prize of $25,000 and the provisional lesser prizes of $5000 and $1000 made possible by William Randolph Hearst, their donor.

The contest, closing on April 30, still has nine weeks to go, since Mr. Hearst desired to give every interested person in the country an opportunity to express his or her opinion on how best to bring about true temperance.

Contestants, however, are advised not to wait too long before sending in their entries, in order that the final awards may not be unduly delayed after the close of the competition. The exacting labor of examining and classifying the competing papers and preparing them for the study of the committee of judges requires all of the allotted time before the winner of the capital prize thesis can be named.

HUB MAN'S VIEWS

Following are other interesting additions to the discussion of the contest:

PHILIP A. CHIPMAN, Penal Institutions Commissioner—I have noted with interest Mr. Hearst's offer of a substantial cash prize for a workable solution to rid the country of the dissatisfaction with the present prohibition law. In my opinion the most important matter to be solved by the public today is this prohibition question. It has made this country a nation of law breakers and is resulting in disrespect for all laws. I also believe that it is the cause of the large number of crimes of violence which are stirring this country. Something must be done and it is only by arousing the public interest in this great subject that a solution will be found.

I congratulate Mr. William Randolph Hearst in his efforts to secure a solution of this problem and in arousing public interest in it, and his generosity in devoting so much of his valuable newspapers' space to this great national issue.

REPRESENTATIVE EDWARD J. KELLEY of Worcester, former minority leader of the House—The Hearst $25,000 prize offer to bring about true temperance I regard as a distinct public service. It is in line with the constructive and progressive policies that have always governed the Hearst publications. I belong to two temperance societies. And all my life I have been a total abstainer. Always have the open saloons been repugnant to me. Yet the saloons, in their heyday never could hold a candle to conditions today. Hypocrisy, corruption and lawlessness abound everywhere. The very life of the nation is being stopped. And rather than admit their colossal blunder, the fanatical orys would see the country sunk in the mire.

COSTLY EXPERIMENT

The costly and ridiculous experiment has been allowed to continue too long. It's time to return to reason and sanity. And while Government control and operation of the dispensing of liquor seems to be the solution, there is hope that a better plan will emerge from the Hearst contest, a plan we can all get behind and work for.

EDWARD J. LEARY, City Messenger—William Randolph Hearst is performing another great public service in drawing the public's attention to the unsatisfactory conditions under the prohibition amendment. President Lowell of Harvard has set the ball rolling. Al Smith was very explicit in his ideas on the issue. He had a lot at stake, but he was willing to take the risk. An issue upon which there is such great division of opinion is a very live and important issue indeed and it is a fine idea for Mr. Hearst to bring out the expression of public opinion in the manner in which his $25,000 prize offer is doing. In effect, Mr. Hearst is giving the people a chance to be educated upon the subject and when they are thoroughly aroused and informed, and only then, will the question of prohibition or temperance be properly settled.

DR. FRANCIS X. MAHONEY, Health Commissioner—The broad-minded and highly commendable attitude and effort of William Randolph Hearst in asking for the opinion and thought of the country on a law that has been the subject of nation-wide controversy, deserves the support of all persons who are interested in the welfare of the country. It is a splendid endeavor, without bias or prejudice, and may crystallize public opinion to the extent that a happy solution may be found that will be practical and satisfactory to the majority of our citizens who have the welfare of the country at heart.

To Sail for Europe

Taking his first real vacation since he has been in office, Asst. U. S. Atty. Hubert C. Thompson of Haverhill, accompanied by his wife, will sail for Liverpool next Sunday on the Lancastria from Boston.

BED ROCKED BY BLAST

Somerville Driver Pays a Birthday Fine of $50

Eugene A. Boeing of Farragut ave., West Somerville, in Somerville Court today celebrated his 38th birthday by paying a fine of $50 after admitting a finding of guilty of operating an automobile so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public.

Thursday night Boeing drove his automobile to the left of a street car on Highland ave., at the corner of Crocker st., Somerville, and struck Irving Cassier, 12, of Washington ter., who was carrying a valentine to his mother awaiting an operation in Somerville hospital. The boy was taken to the hospital, still clutching the valentine. He will be released today.

Cold Keeping King in From Sunshine

Bognor, Sussex, Eng., Feb. 20 (AP)—The persistent cold and strong winds have made it impossible to take King George on the verandah of Craigwell House where he might derive the benefit of sunshine.

The King passed a good night and his household is eagerly awaiting more favorable weather so that he may get out.

Edison to Reenact Light Invention in Ford's Museum

Fort Myers, Fla., Feb. 20 (AP)—In the same little frame building in which the electric light first burned, Thomas A. Edison will recreate his history-making invention on the 50th anniversary of its perfection.

Henry Ford, the electrical wizard's close friend, revealed that Mr. Edison has agreed to go to Dearborn, Mich., for the anniversary celebration on October 21.

In the original Menlo Park, N. J., laboratory, now in Ford's museum, Edison will gather around him the aged assistants who helped develop the incandescent lamp, and with a brief ceremony will re-enact its creation.

The ceremony will take place in the historical village near the main museum, for which Mr. Ford recently made a gift of $5,000,000 on the occasion of Mr. Edison's 82d birthday.

Mr. Ford discussed a wide variety of subjects in a two-hour interview yesterday.

WORKS ON VACATION

The motor magnate believes conditions in the automobile industry are satisfactory and that there is little danger of overproduction. In his own factories, he said 7000 cars a day are being turned out.

During his vacation, Ford disclosed, he is working on automatic machinery for the manufacture of parts used in his cars. He is being assisted by Edison.

"I am trying to make a straight line out of a circle," he said. "We are working 800 hours making 140,000 of these parts daily. I am trying to cut this down."

Ford reiterated his confidence in the ability of Edison to find a plant that can produce a rubber supply for the United States within its borders.

WANTS LINDY TO QUIT

Expressing pleasure at learning of the engagement of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, the automobile magnate said he hoped the famous flier would give up flying himself.

"He is too valuable to risk his life," Ford said. Incidentally, the only two flights Ford has ever made were with Col. Lindbergh.

Discussing aviation, Ford expressed the belief that airplanes "are far from perfection," and that aircraft of the future would be a combination of lighter than air ships, the helicopter and present type planes.

The manufacturer reiterated his previously expressed views on prohibition, declaring that the United States would "see real enforcement in the next two or three years."

"The grafters," he said, "eventually will be weeded out of the dry enforcement forces."

NO USE FOR GOLF

Golf, Ford asserted, is causing more heart trouble than any other one thing.

"I own a golf course," he said, "but never play. The American people drag themselves over the course at slow speed, then, completely fatigued, sit down and eat hearty meals.

My favorite form of exercise is running or brisk walking, but I always rest before meals."

Mr. Ford said that at 65 he often runs several miles a day and exercises vigorously on arising or retiring daily. He said that almost everyone eats too much.

"Peace is a matter of education," the magnate said, in turning to another subject, "and Americans are too well educated to participate in another war."

MAN HURT AS CAR HITS U. S. TRUCK

Springfield, Feb. 20—Walter H. Borden of Agawam was seriously injured today when a heavy sedan he was operating crashed into the rear end of a U. S. army truck, loaded with valuable furniture, rare curios and gifts, the property of President and Mrs. Coolidge.

Borden was knocked unconscious and was taken to the Springfield Hospital.

Several articles of furniture were hurled to the street by the impact, which sent the heavy truck, parked, and with the emergency brake on, five feet ahead.

The driver of the truck said the President had wanted him to use extra care in connection with the load of which he had charge.

Four army trucks, all carrying property of the Coolidges, are bound from Washington to their Northampton home, were all parked in front of a diner on the West Springfield end of the Memorial Bridge.

The trucks proceeded to Northampton, stopping at the Berkshire County Trust Company there and turning over the Coolidge silverware before going on to a warehouse, where the furniture and other articles were stored.

20 CRASH AS HIT-AND-RUN MAN FLEES

Hidden in a coal yard, after a chase through East Braintree, Manuel Fozzy of Davis st., Wollaston, was arrested by the police of that town charged with being a hit-and-run motorist today.

Driving a sedan which the police allege was stolen in Boston, Fozzy appeared on Quincy ave., East Braintree, where he is said to have crashed into a parked car. Police say Fozzy then backed away and drove off, disregarding the commands of Joseph de Marco, owner of the taxi, to halt.

De Marco leaped to the running board of the car, but was forced to jump off as it gathered speed. Suddenly the car left the road, ploughed into a sandbank and became to a stop. Fozzy, police say, climbed a 15-foot wall and disappeared.

Meanwhile, Fred Walsh of Wellington st., East Braintree, who witnessed the crash, notified the police who took up the chase. Led by De Marco, they found Fozzy hiding in a coal yard.

Vatican Immigrant Quota to U. S. May Be 1 in 5 Years

Rome, Feb. 20 (AP)—Passports, automobile licenses, and immigration quotas are some of the things hitherto inconsequential at the Vatican which the authorities may have to consider.

It is suggested that persons residing within the Vatican grounds should have a passport from the Vatican rather than the Italian government.

A licensing system for Vatican automobiles, hitherto unnumbered, is in prospect, while someone has raised the question as to how much immigrants to the United States the Vatican might be allowed each year.

WILL OPPOSE GIRLS FROM UNIVERSITY OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

These Boston University co-eds are all ready to meet the girl debaters from the University of New Hampshire in Jacob Sleeper Hall, tomorrow night, when they will debate the question, "Resolved: That the Present American Jury System Be Abolished." The B. U. team has not been defeated in four years.

FIND TUBE FIRE WAS CAUSED BY RUBBISH

New York, Feb. 20 (INS)—One of all the horror that 1000 passengers underwent for two hours in the Hudson tube fire under official investigation today. Fixing the blame on the Hudson and Manhattan Railroad Company.

Tracks strewn with old papers and grease resulted in the flaming pile over which a screaming train stalled 1000 feet west of the Christopher st. station, the transit commissioner acted after an all night investigation. It issued orders to the railroad company to clean up the tracks at once.

Although not all of the 1500 passengers were injured, all suffered from the choking fire and the fumes. Many were cut and bruised in the mad rush for freedom from the stalled train.

That the train was brought to a standstill directly opposite the flames in the tube because of an error made by a platform guard who pulled the emergency cord was admitted by the railroad company.

The transit commission's report left no doubt that would have been no fire had the tracks been kept clean.

'SLASHER' CASE IS PUT OFF

On a warrant sworn out by Mrs. Marie Ficarra of Green st., Jamaica Plain, Angelo Lattanza of Benning st., East Boston, was arraigned in Roxbury Court today on a charge of assault and battery with a dangerous weapon. He had been arrested on suspicion of being the "subway slasher."

Lattanza pleaded not guilty and was held in $2500 until next Wednesday. In view of the continuance no testimony was taken.

Lattanza was arrested by Patrolmen Sidney and Kajaan of Station 6 in the Andrew sq. station of the subway, after he had been acting suspiciously, they claimed.

He was identified by Mrs. Ficarra as the man who pushed her when her dress was caught on an elevated train. This morning he was turned over to the police of the Dudley st. station, who will prosecute the case.

Boston Braves Case Goes Over to Mar. 19

The case in which the Boston Braves are accused of violating the corrupt practices law in connection with the Sunday sport campaign was continued to March 19 in municipal court today on request of Gen. Edward L. Logan and Charles McCarthy, counsel for the ball club. All the officers of the Braves are in St. Petersburg, Fla., where the spring training season has just begun. A similar case against O. J. Fruzer, treasurer of the Outdoor Recreation league, was continued to the same date.

Paris Hears Rumor Poincare Will Quit

Paris, Feb. 20 (INS)—Rumors that Premier Raymond Poincare might resign as the result of untoward political developments were circulated today.

Poincare was said to be disappointed over the six vote majority of the Cabinet in the Chamber

CHICAGO BOYS FIRST TO DIE IN CHAIR

Chicago, Feb. 20 (AP)—The execution of two youths in their teens early today introduced the electric chair to Cook County as the legal death device supplanting hanging.

Anthony Greco and Charles Walz died within 10 minutes of each other shortly after midnight for the murder of Patrolman Arthur Ecau during a druggstore holdup in April.

The executions were carried out with precision and were completed within 20 minutes after Greco, the first to die, had been led into the death chamber, blindfolded, by two guards. Greco was pale but was silent throughout the proceedings, but Walz, a year younger, turned to one of the guards as he walked toward the chair and mumbled:

"Never mind. I'm all right."

As he was strapped to the chair he whispered:

"Good-bye, folks."

Walz who had manifested an air of bravado throughout the trial and after his conviction, maintained his nonchalance to the end. At one time he said he'd go to sleep and leave a call for 12:01. He and Greco played cards with two of the guards during the evening and listened to a portable phonograph which had been placed in their cell. Walz smoked one cigaret after another and was smoking as he was led down from his cell to the chair. He was visited by his father and mother late in the afternoon.

Asked if he were sorry for the murder, Walz replied:

"I might do it again. He would have got me if I didn't get him."

Greco was more remorseful. While talking to his parents and other relatives, he remarked:

"I'm sorry. I'd never do it again."

Contrary to expectations, few persons gathered outside the county jail during the evening due to the zero weather.

The law substituting the electric chair for the gallows was enacted in 1927. There have been previous sentences of death by electrocution, but legal delays have postponed their execution. In other cases hanging has been prescribed because the crime was committed before the electric chair became the official method of capital punishment in Illinois.

Cold Wave Halts Flood in Europe

London, Feb. 20 (AP)—Renewal of bitter cold in Central Europe today postponed thaws which were rapidly developing a most dangerous flood situation.

Meanwhile a new cold wave was sweeping Macedonia and flood sufferers were hard put for shelter from continuing heavy snowfalls. Planes were in use to take food to outlying districts where Turkish and Grecian soldiers were co-operating to relieve the situation.

Slain Gangster's Girl in Hospital

Miss Christine Donovan, 19, alleged sweetheart of Anthony Chiampa, slain gangster, was rushed to City Hospital early today from the home of detention, suffering with acute tonsilitis.

Miss Donovan was taken into custody soon after Chiampa's shot-riddled body was found in a barn on the Derby farm in Revere. She was released after questioning, but subsequently arrested again.

'Herb' Bacon Puts 'Cal's' Sausage on the Shelf

Washington, Feb. 20 (AP)—If this morning's breakfast at the Herbert Hoover home may be accepted as a criterion, bacon and eggs will supplant the Coolidge sausage and wheat cakes on the official White House menu.

Mr. Hoover began today his meeting with congressional leaders with a breakfast party and his guests reported that bacon and eggs were served.

CHAMBERLAIN BACKS HOWARD NAVAL VIEW

London, Feb. 20 (AP)—Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign secretary, today put the stamp of his office's approval upon the recent statement in Washington by Sir Esme Howard, British ambassador to the United States.

In this statement Sir Esme explained the probable course of future Anglo-American negotiations on naval disarmament.

The chief of the foreign service, speaking in the House of Commons, said the ambassador had uttered personal views without receiving instructions from home. But he repeatedly told questioners that there was no contradiction between the Washington statement and a communique issued from Downing st. last Saturday.

Sir Austen reaffirmed a previous announcement that all questions concerning British relations with the United States and the naval conditions of the two countries were under consideration by the British Government.

"Our examination of this question is being diligently prosecuted," he said. "As soon as it is concluded the first step will be to communicate with the Dominions."

Hoover to Call on Coolidge Today

Washington, Feb. 20 (AP)—Hastening to renew his discussions with President Coolidge on subjects relating to the outgoing and incoming administrations, President-elect Hoover made an appointment to see the chief executive at the White House today.

At the first conference of the day Mr. Hoover discussed with Senator Watson of Indiana, who will be Republican leader in the next session, and Representative Tilson of Connecticut, Republican floor leader, the most suitable date for calling a special session.

Soviet Bread Books to Cut Cow Rations

Moscow, Feb. 20 (AP)—Bread books, issued by the government, will govern purchases of bread after March 15, the Moscow Soviet, governing committee, decide today.

The prestidium was ordered to work out details governing distribution of bread. The resolution, after saying the Red capital was amply supplied with baked bread, says the main difficulty lay in speculation and in feeding cattle with bread which was cheaper than fodder.

MAYOR CASASSA OF REVERE APPROVES FLAG CONTEST

EIGHT NEW QUESTIONS TODAY

"In the mad rush of our mechanical age, too little thought is given to patriotic interests. When our citizens realize and appreciate the true meaning of the Stars and Stripes of our United States; its benevolence; its help to humanity; its wonderful record of service to mankind; the sacrifices made for it by our own generations and the generations preceding ours; its great world power and the important part it has played in the progress and advancement of civilization, the more readily will they love and reverence this symbol of our nation."

So says Mayor Andrew A. Casassa of Revere today in his indorsement of the Nation-wide patriotic Flag Contest now being conducted by the United States Flag Association. The text of the mayor's letter follows:

"We owe a debt of gratitude, as American citizens, for this worth-while contest, for it will bring forth the best thought of our young people and the award offered—a trip around the world—is a reward that will arouse the boys and girls and their elders to a livelier interest in our flag and our country. I wish the best of luck to all the contestants and a very happy and successful trip to the winner.

CUBA IN CONTEST

Thus the chief executive of the City of Revere joins hands with Governor Frank G. Allen and Mayor Malcolm E. Nichols, Nation-wide educators and important civic principals, teachers of schools and heads of patriotic organizations in declaring the Flag Contest one that is sure to impress upon school boys and school girls participating that the primary object of the Flag Contest is not to award prizes but to spread interest and develop appreciation of American ideals and institutions, and to arouse in the youth of America the desire to learn more about the history, traditions, natural resources and physical grandeur of this wonderful country of ours.

Even unto the distant, exotic shores of sunny Cuba has gone the fame of the First Annual Educational Flag Contest of the United States Flag Association.

Among the many daily entries received by the Atlanta-Georgian, one of the eighteen newspapers sponsoring the project, is a request for contest details from the Havana Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution.

The request for entry in this, the greatest patriotic project ever launched in the United States, comes from Mrs. Emily Jane Donnelly, President of the Havana D. A. R. and principal of the Velado high school in the Cuban Capital.

41 QUESTIONS TO DATE

Authority for conducting the Contest in the land that was liberated from Spanish oppression by the United States has been granted. Today, the children of the Guerilla forces that fought side by side with the Rough Riders for Cuban Liberty are studying with zeal and enthusiasm the ideals of the Flag of the Nation that gave them Democratic Government.

Since the Contest centers in the Flag of the United States—an emblem honored and revered by all loyal Americans—The United States Flag Association, the sponsoring Hearst Newspapers, yourself and all others are doing everything possible to conduct the Contest in a big, fair, high-minded, dignified way in keeping with the Flag of our Country, and all Contestants should help to keep the Contest on the highest possible plane by competing in a generous, clean-cut, sportsmanlike, patriotic way.

Once again the Flag Contest Editor wishes to call the attention of the school boys and school girls who have not as yet enrolled to visit the Headquarters of the American Legion Post in his or her city or town and make application. These Posts are in the process of organizing local contest units and in a short time many of these units will be under way, so do not be afraid to step up and enroll.

MANY AWARDS

School boys and school girls and heads of organizations who have not yet enrolled in this great Nation-wide educational movement should take notice of this fact that the amazing additional awards recently made public TWO boys and TWO girls, the winners of the grand national prize, will be given a three-months cruise around the world instead of one boy and one girl as previously announced for the national champions.

Remember also that the 36 regional champions, 18 boys and 18 girls, who were, by the original provisions of the Contest, to have a week's tour of the patriotic shrines of the East, will now be taken on a two-week's tour.

Remember, in addition to the trip to the patriotic shrines each of the 36 regional winners will be given a scholarship worth $200. There are also other awards such as various medals and certificates of honorable mention.

8 More Questions in Flag Contest

34—When used on a speaker's platform where should the Flag be: (a) If displayed flat? (b) If flown from a staff? (Value two points.)

35—When flown at half-staff how should the Flag be hoisted and how should it be lowered? (Value two points.)

36—How is mourning indicated: (a) If the Flag is carried on or is fastened to a staff? (b) If the Flag is displayed flat against a wall or in a window? (Value two points.)

37—Should the Flag ever be tied in the middle with crepe to indicate mourning? (Value one point.)

38—How should the Flag be displayed on an automobile? (Value one point.)

39—Should the Flag ever be draped over the hood, top, sides, or back of an automobile? (Value one point.)

40—When a Flag is in such condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display, what should be done with it, and how should this be done? (Value one point.)

41—What, instead of the Flag, should be used for covering a speaker's desk, draping over the front of a platform, and for decoration in general? (Value one point.)

Cut out and save these questions.
Watch for more questions tomorrow.

This Wrong Number Worm Turns—Sues

Milwaukee, Feb. 20 (AP)—Tired of answering the telephone only to find that it was the "wrong number," Mrs. Agnes Streiff has filed suit against the Wisconsin Telephone Company for $5000.

Whenever she was busy with the week's wash in the basement, she testified today, the phone would ring a dozen times or more and she would climb the stairs as often, only to find that the operator had rung the "wrong number."

Free State Army Has New Chief

Dublin, Irish Free State, Feb. 20 (AP)—Major-General Sean MacKeon has been appointed chief of staff to succeed Daniel Hogan, who resigned. McKeon took an active part in the strife which preceded establishment of the Irish Free State.

While he was imprisoned in Mountjoy an attempt was made to rescue him with the aid of an armored car.

...and that's how
OLD GOLD
became the throat-easy cigarette

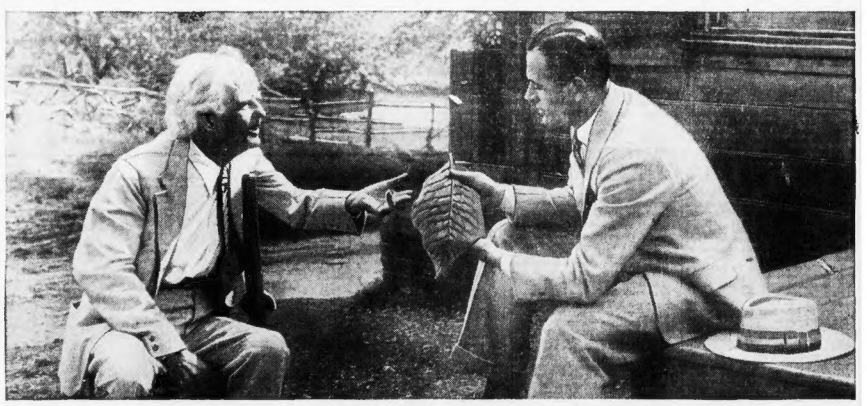
HEART-LEAF quality throughout in both Domestic and Imported Tobaccos



"Every Old-Timer knows that the HEART-LEAVES make the smoothest smoke"

"Round here in the foothills of the Blue Ridge, we've been raisin' tobacco since my grandpap was a boy. We grow the makin's for all the leading cigarettes.

"Well, Suh, a few years ago an OLD GOLD man came through here and said: 'I don't want any of your sleazy ground-leaves. I don't want any of your gummy top-leaves. I only aim to buy your heart-leaves. And I'll pay the price.'

"Now every old-timer, down in his heart, knows that the top and bottom leaves may bite the throat. And he knows that the heart-leaves make the smoothest smoke.

"But when the OLD GOLD people demanded the heart-leaves, that was something new in these diggin's. That's how OLD GOLD became the throat-easy cigarette . . . that's where 'not a cough in a carload' came from."

Children to the Show So Folks Can Play

Philadelphia, Feb. 20 (AP)—Some parents send their children to the movies so they can themselves play bridge, Carl E. Milliken, secretary of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, declared. Such parents, he added, should learn the lessons of parental responsibility.

GRAND DUKE ALEXANDER MICHAELOVITCH IS GUEST AT RITZ-CARLTON LUNCHEON

Junior League Girls Act as Ushers at Evening Lecture

VERY SMALL AND INTIMATE was the dinner given last night by Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. Morris Locke for Grand Duke Alexander Michaelovitch. It was a party of eight, including the host and hostess and the guest of honor, which sat down to dinner in the private dining room in the Locke suite at the Ritz-Carlton. Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. Locke moved to Boston recently from Washington.

DURING THE COURSE OF THE evening a reception was held for the grand duke, attended by many prominent Bostonians. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Whitwell, who entertained at dinner preceding the reception, and Mrs. Curtis Guild, at whose home the duke was a dinner guest Monday evening. The subject of the lecture which the grand duke gave after the reception was, "Out of My Life." Junior League girls ushering at the lecture included Martha Houser, Adelaide Sims, Katherine Cram and Barbara Forbes.

THE VINCENT CLUB WILL soon be busy making preparations for the annual show. Miss Helen Mossley, vice president of the club, is now in charge in the absence of Mrs. Chauncey C. Nash of Milton, who has been visiting in California. Mrs. Nash is expected to return shortly, and under her able direction the club will start tryouts for the various parts, and rehearsals will soon be under way.

WHEN MISS HARRIET WOODBURY, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Woodbury of Paris, marries John Caldwell Welwood, Jr., in St. Thomas's Church, New York, next Saturday afternoon she will have among her bridesmaids Miss Mary I. Hammond of Brookline. Miss Hammond has already gone on to New York to attend various functions scheduled this week in honor of the bride elect.

MR. COURTENAY CROCKER was among the speakers at the first of a series of discussions on international relations held at the home of Mrs. Arthur W. Moors at 171 Beacon st. Other speakers were Lawrence G. Brooks, special justice of the first district court of eastern Middlesex, and Raymond T. Rich, general secretary of the World Peace Foundation. The series will continue through March.

THE FURTHER LIST OF patronesses for Katharine Cunningham Gray's song recital at the Women's Republican Club next Sunday evening includes Mrs. Bayard Thayer, Miss Susan Amory, Mrs. Walter C. Baylies, Mrs. Oliver Wolcott, Mrs. Charles S. Bird, Jr., Mrs. Augustus Hemenway, Mrs. Wirt Dexter, Mrs. Henry Parsons King, Mrs. Arthur Lithgow Devens, Mrs. I. Tucker Burr, Mrs. Edwin Dodge, Mrs. Eliot Wadsworth, Mrs. Timothee Adamowski and Miss Grace Nichols.

MR. CHARLES HOPKINSON of Cambridge is one of the artists whose works are being shown at the exhibition which opened this week at the rooms of the Harvard Society for Contemporary Art. The exhibition is an experimental venture which the society hopes will enable Bostonians to keep abreast of various forms of contemporary art. Mr. John Nicholas Brown and Mr. Edward W. Forbes are both members of the society's board of trustees.

MISS KATHERINE CRAM

Junior Leaguer was among the ushers at the lecture given last night at the Ritz-Carlton by the Grand Duke Alexander Michaelovitch.

A LARGE CIRCLE OF FRIENDS and acquaintances welcomes back to Boston Mrs. Fiske Warren of Mt. Vernon pl., who has just returned from a year abroad. During the latter part of her stay Mrs. Warren was a guest of her sister's in Dublin, Irish Free State.

A GREAT SUCCESS WAS THE tea given at the Copley Plaza by the Charlotte Cushman Club Miss Genevieve Tobin, now playing in the "Trial of Mary Dugan," was the guest of honor. Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird and Mrs. John Montazzie of New York presided at the tea table. The guests included Mrs. Henry Endicott, Mrs. W. C. Endicott, Mrs. Francis W. Hunt, Mr. Irving Harris Niles and Mr. Wilbur Harlsborn of Newport, R. I.

130 Newton Home Boys Keith Guests

One hundred and thirty boys from the Working Boys' Home of Newton, and Brother Fabian, head of the institution, are guests of the B. F. Keith Memorial Theater this afternoon at the matinee performance at the big playhouse.

The theater sent several large buses to Newton to bring the boys to the theater, where they were to be greeted by "Tod" Browning, managing director. After viewing the show, which includes such famous headliners as Van and Schenck, noted singers of popular songs, the guests were to be given a ride about the city.

17th CENTURY MUSIC GIVEN

By MOSES SMITH

One of the most enjoyable concerts we can recall was that of the Seventeenth Century Ensemble, which presented a program of intimate music in the equally intimate confines of the State Suite of the Copley-Plaza. The unusual nature of the program, as well as the presence of Irma Maier as assisting artist, contributed to the crowding of the quarters with eager listeners.

A Three Part Fantasia for Strings, by Purcell, began the program. It was a charming music, as was the following Fantasia upon One Note for Strings, by the same great English composer.

Guy Maier at the piano and a trio of strings then transported the audience into the eighteenth century of Mozart's G minor Quartet. The performance of this piece was adequate if not sojourning, though Mr. Maier was his usual resourceful self. The group was swifter and ruder transition to the twentieth century, when a quaintly phrased final Hindemith "Social Piece," as they are labeled sometimes.

But the piece de resistance was the Concerto for Three Pianos by Bach. An enlarged string ensemble was joined by Dalies Frantz, who played as well at Jordan Hall the previous evening. Maier and Ethel Hauser. The pianists played with immense gusto as well as brilliance, while the strings filled in. The last movement was repeated after an audience had overwhelmed the performers.

COLD WEATHER TO STAY A DAY

The storm which deposited two inches of snow locally passed off the weather map today, leaving behind it fair and cold weather destined to last until tomorrow, with the probability it will be succeeded by a warm wave that has boosted temperatures 64 degrees in North Dakota.

The cold wave which forced the mercury here down 20 degrees in 24 hours, with an official minimum of 14 above at 7 a. m. was centered in the Ohio Valley and moving east to the coast.

Chicago reported a temperature of two below. Burlington, Vt., with minus six, was the coldest spot in New England officially.

The official minimum as recorded at the weather bureau was 14 above.

The mercury was not expected to rise above 23 today, and tomorrow morning will probably drop to eight above.

The forecast for Boston: Fair tonight and Thursday, slightly colder tonight; not quite so cold Thursday afternoon; fresh northerly winds shifting to easterly Thursday.

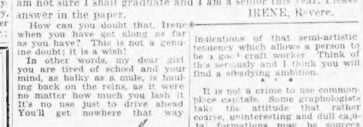
Schoolgirl Told to 'Send Love Flying'

By LOUISE RICE
Noted Graphologist

I SHOULD greatly appreciate a short lecture on the benefit of graduating from high school. I feel that I need one for I am not sure I shall graduate and I am a senior this year. Please answer in the paper. IRENE, Revere.

How can you doubt that, Irene, when you have got along as far as you have? This is not a genuine doubt; it is a wish!

In other words, my dear girl you are tired of school and your mind, as balky as a mule, is hauling back on the reins, as it were no matter how much you lash it. It's no use just to drive ahead. You'll get nowhere that way.



And examine yourself honestly. What is it?

Are you in love, Irene? Alas and alack, I have known this malady to interfere sadly with a scholastic ambition—for a time. If this is it, just give it a good vigorous punch and send it flying. It's no time to be thinking of love until your character is far more settled than it is now.

Are you lazy, Irene? I sadly fear so. Are you indolent as to the future? I do fear that, too, Irene. Generally speaking, I do not believe that you really fear this not graduating half so much as you do that you will have to!

Try to follow out this line of thought and see if you don't get somewhere that is conclusive. You have a fine, loving, imaginative, idealistic, impulsive, sincere and excitable nature. In time it will be very interesting and unusual.

I should say that you had some indications of that semi-artistic tendency which allows a person to be a good craft worker. Think of this seriously and I think you will find a steadying ambition.

It is not a crime to use commonplace capitals. Some graphologists take the attitude that rather coarse, uninteresting and dull capital formations may be sources of reproach to the maker.

On the contrary, some of the most worthy and worthwhile people make these dull capitals, their virtues and values being expressed in the small letter.

Before we take such formations as those shown in the illustration as evidence of very ordinary character, let us remember the graphological rule that taste, feeling for line and color and art are the things which are most strongly represented in capitals. Let us also remember that pride and aggressiveness are frequently shown by capitals which are very impressive looking.

The very commonplace capitals, therefore, may reflect indifference to art, some lack of cultured taste. But many a fine man is utterly indifferent to the opera! Many a woman with a splendid mind who does not know that red and lavender are not exactly harmonious.

The capitals have a good deal to tell us, in their formations, whether they are good-looking or not.

NOTE: Send sample of your handwriting to Miss Louise Rice, noted graphologist, for analysis. Write your name and complete address on unruled paper, in ink or pencil. To cover clerical costs enclose 10c in silver or stamps. Also enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. The individual analysis will be returned to you within a period of one or two weeks. Letters will not be published if sender so requests. Miss Rice has a number of letters which she cannot answer because of wrong or inadequate addresses.

ACOSTA WILL BE GOOD NOW, BUT IT COST $1000

Washington, Feb. 19 (AP)—Bert Acosta, transoceanic pilot on the flyed flight, who has been in serious conflict with federal regulations applying to civilian aviation, today made his peace with the Commerce Department.

William P. MacCracken, Jr., Assistant Secretary of Commerce, imposed two $500 fines on Acosta and twice suspended his piloting license for "stunting" in a fashion considered unlawful over Chicago and New Jersey. Today MacCracken announced Acosta will be permitted after April 15 to take examinations for renewal of his license.

Warns Women About Immigrant Law

ATTACKING the General Federation resolution on legislation for reuniting the families of immigrants even after the quota is filled as "sentimental but very unwise," Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer head of the Massachusetts immigration division, strongly urged clubwomen to keep hands off the immigration problem.

Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer

Mrs. Thayer flayed the proposed legislation in an address before the joint legislative conference of the fourth and fifth districts in Roslindale.

"Have faith in your own country," she begged. "This Government is constantly working on this problem, seeking to adjust individual cases without imperilling the welfare of all.

"Such legislation as is proposed would practically nullify the protection afforded by the 1924 quota law. Many women do not realize the terrible question which this country faced 10 years ago when 10,000,000 undesirable war refugees threatened to flood our fair land.

"We dare not let down our bars for the hardship of a few individuals. Our Government is continually trying to smooth out this one difficulty following the passage of that law and if you will only be patient I believe five years more will see the happy adjustment of it without danger of letting in physically and mentally unfit persons.

WEAKNESS IN PROVISIONS

"Take into consideration, too, that an amendment was passed last July raising the ages of minor children to be brought in on the preference list from 18 to 21 years. People often overlook this new provision, with the resident alien clause giving preference to those with relatives already here.

"But here is a point conspicuous by its absence in the legislation sponsored by the General Federation.

"Nothing is said about the resident immigrant's intentions of becoming a naturalized citizen of this country.

"Now I am for safeguarding the family but let us be sure that the men who bring their families here in want also to become citizens and have at least taken out their first papers."

HEAR OTHER SPEAKERS

Mrs. Thayer pointed out that immigrants arriving in 1924 or before that time had plenty of opportunity to declare intentions of becoming citizens if they wished to bring their families here.

Mrs. Anna C. M. Tillinghast sent a note of warning urging women not to let their emotions override their judgment on this question.

Other speakers on legislative topics were Edward Harriman on highway zoning; Miss Florence Dixon on the old people's homes bill; Alfred T. Whitman on children's law commission; Mrs. Fred L. Pigeon on milk legislation, and women, for fifty service measures.

Mrs. Carl Schrader was the honor guest. Others on the platform were Mrs. Henry E. Robert, presiding; Mrs. Frank H. Letteney, hostess; Mrs. Thomas G. Ross. Tea hostesses were Mrs. Frank Pfaff, chairman hospitality with her committee, and Mrs. Sophie Schoil, Mrs. Henry W. Johnson, Mrs. H. L. Libby and Mrs. H. L. Crysler, pouring.

Japanese-Chinese Negotiations Fail

Shanghai, China, Feb. 20 (AP)—The American Daily Evening News today said it had been officially informed negotiations for settlement of the controversy between China and Japan over the Tsinan incident had broken down.

The reason given was China's demand that Japan pay $15,000,000 compensation and assume full responsibility for the Tsinan disorders of May 3, 1928.

CHURCHILL MAY RESIGN IN IRISH ROW

London, Feb. 20 (AP)—The government today counted the cost of a last ditch move by Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin which saved it from defeat in the House of Commons.

Resignation of Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, was even suggested as an outgrowth of the incident. Both Churchill and Col. L. S. Amery, secretary for the dominions, were in a humiliating position, suggestive of repudiation by the premier.

An eloquent and vehement plea by Churchill failed to quell the revolt of "die-hard" Conservatives, and party whips hastily summoned the premier.

Baldwin appeared within a few minutes and asked leave for the government to reconsider its position. His request was granted—had it not been, or had he not appeared a vote would almost certainly have sent the government down in defeat.

The measure under discussion provided for compensation of Irish loyalists of South Ireland who suffered losses during the disturbances. Col. Amery, as dominions secretary, sought a reduction. He said the government had paid the loyalists about $40,000,000, an amount which the Saorstat government had supplemented with about $8,000,000.

His proposal immediately came under fire from Conservatives, led by Rt. Hon. J. Gretton (Burton), who declared they considered the compensation to the loyalists a "debt of honor," incurred when the Parliament withdrew protection there.

Churchill upheld Col. Amery's proposal.

Film... dangerous to teeth

Remove it daily to keep teeth white and sound

FILM is the cause of dull, discolored teeth as well as the serious tooth and gum disorders. Run your tongue across your teeth and you will feel this film. It absorbs stains from food and smoking and turns white teeth dull. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays.

Film hardens into tartar. Germs by the millions breed in it. And germs, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Ordinary brushing fails to remove film successfully. So dentists urge the special film-removing dentifrice called Pepsodent.

First, Pepsodent curdles film, then removes it in gentle safety to enamel. No other way will make teeth as sparkling white. Write for free 10-day supply to The Pepsodent Co., 1104 So. Wabash Ave., Chicago, or ask your druggist for full-size tube.

2 PALM BEACH HOLDUPS NET $24,000

Palm Beach, Fla., Feb. 20—Two more jewel robberies, in the wave of hotel and winter home thefts that has engulfed Palm Beach, have been reported here and total approximately $24,000.

One was a pistol holdup in the home of the victims. The other was just one more robbery in the Hotel Alba, which has been the target for sneak thieves for the past month, with a resultant loss of close to $75,000, according to police reports.

Lucius Ordway, manager of B F. Korch & Co., New York, bankers and brokers, and his wife of St. Paul returned to their home at 113 Seaspray ave. and found an unmasked white man in their bedroom.

He forced Mrs. Ordway to remove about $10,000 in bracelets and rings from her arms and fingers. Ordway was forced to empty his pockets and give up a valuable ring and several hundred dollars in cash.

At the Alba Hotel Mrs. Janrenberg of New York reported the loss of $12,500 worth of jewels and a small amount of cash from her room.

RIOT AS FOUR SLAYERS HANG

Vienna, Feb. 20 (INS)—While police with rifles and bayonets battled with a crowd trying to free the condemned, four robbers and murderers were hanged in the Zagreb, Croatia, prison today amid grewsome disorders.

One of ther obbers knocked down the executioner twice. Assistants went to his aid, but the maddened robber attacked them, tearing the noose from his neck and screaming to thec rowd outside the prison gates to come to his help.

Three times did he tear off the noose before he was hanged.

KNOX PLEDGES HEARST AID TO SOUTHWEST

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 20—Hearst newspaper executives last night heard the magic story of the Southwest from the lips of the men who are pushing back the frontiers of a rugged cow country and turning the reclaimed land into a veritable fairland.

The story was unfolded at a dinner given the visiting newspapermen by the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce. The executives are here for their annual convention.

From the lips of J. H. Kirkpatrick the editors heard how the Southwest was being united to the humming wheels of industry and commerce and agriculture. He said:

STATE SELG-SUPPORTING.

"A few years ago this country about you was nothing but desert land. Cows grazed on land that felt the dampness of rain only a few times a year. Now beef cattle and dairy cows graze on land that is irrigated through the harnessing of feeders to the Rio Grande river.

"The land has been made productive until today a fence could built around the State of Texas and the people could survive without outside aid. Everything man needs is somewhere within the borders of the State."

"Military aviation" was described by Brig-Gen. Frank P. Lahm, commander of the Intermediate air corps training center. He briefly outlined the aims of his department and the part it is playing in the developing Southwest Texas and the Nation.

KNOX PLEDGES SUPPORT.

Col. Frank Knox, general manager of the Hearst newspapers, responded for the executives. He said that Mr. William Randolph Hearst and all of his publishers and editors were proud at being identified with the development of the Southwest and that they would unstintingly work with the Southwest for its development.

The dinner was presided over by Col. William McIntosh, publisher of the San Antonio Light.

Before the dinner George Hearst of San Francisco, son of William Randolph Hearst, placed two wreaths of American Beauty roses at the Alamo, "Cradle of Texas Liberty."

The wreaths, Mr. Hearst said were "dedicated to those men who died without a thought of surrendering to principles of freedom for which they were fighting, and in commemoration of this spirit of free government."

NAB 3 FUGITIVE OHIO CONVICTS

Columbus, O., Feb. 20 (AP)—Three of five convicts who sawed and hitched their way to freedom through the bars of Ohio State penitentiary yesterday were captured and returned to solitary confinement early today, less than 24 hours after their escape.

Pat McDermott, gunman of the Don R. Mellett slaying in Canton, and Mike Jacko, who murdered a Cleveland butcher, were cornered in a power house tower five miles north of here at midnight. Joe Rosso, Cleveland robber, was taken a few hours later as a farm guard of here.

The others sought were William W. Young, sentenced to life for the murder of a Marietta (O.) policeman, and James A. Walden, Cleveland robber, reputedly wanted in Philadelphia for murder.

Warden Preston E. Thomas fixed direct responsibility for the escape on one of two guards assigned to watch the cell tiers through the night. They were questioned at length by Warden Thomas and other State officials.

'MASSACRE' TIP LAYS CRIME TO POLICEMEN

Chicago, Feb. 20 (AP)—The enforcement agencies of the United States government, the county of Cook and the city of Chicago expressed a united belief today that Thursday's mass murder of gangsters was approaching solution.

A secret indictment gave definite information to federal investigators. It lent corroborative color to the theory of a federal official that Chicago police officers may have had a part in the slaying.

"Moran's gang (the seven who were killed were members of the George Moran crowd) stole $12,000 worth of a Chicago policeman's liquor," said the informant, "and that's what the shooting's all about."

The policeman who owned the liquor has a partner and a sweetheart. The girl runs a beauty shop and the partner runs a roadhouse in the northwest of Chicago. The officer has a half interest in the roadhouse.

"Find the policeman who fits the picture and you've got something."

It was explained the informant had overheard a conversation between the policeman and the girl through a thin partition of the beauty shop. The policeman told the girl , $12,000 load of liquor had been hijacked and that "Bug's Moran did it."

The dying statement of Frank Gusenberg, the only gangster not killed outright in the massacre was that "a couple of coppers did it," and several persons who saw the killers' car described it was a police machine.

Husband Gave Her but $10 in 25 Years, Woman Says

Fall River, Feb. 20—Judge Mayhew R. Hitch today reserved decision in the separate support suit of Mrs. Delina Clement, 71, against her husband, Joseph, 67. She testified he deserted her 28 years ago, and that she had received but $10 from him in the last 25 years. She said she had worked as a mill hand to raise their two children. The couple were married in 1899.

Hit by Motorcycle

Jacob Richmond, 70, of 548 Salem st., Malden, is in a critical state in Malden Hospital, as the result of injuries suffered when he was struck by a motorcycle while crossing Salem st., near Dell st.

The police say that the vehicle was operated by Jacob Oshlsky of Essex st., Malden.

Physicians say Cascarets give your bowels as much real exercise as you get from an hour of hard play! They are made from Cascara Sagrada, which stimulates the peristaltic action and exercises the bowel muscles. Oils, salts and ordinary laxatives don't act like Cascarets. These things only produce mechanical or chemical action, which really weakens the bowels.
Every time you take Cascarets your bowels become stronger. That's the reason they give lasting relief from constipation, biliousness, headaches, indigestion, bloating, etc. That's why 20 million boxes are used a year!

By TED LYNCH

Harvard, fresh from its victory over Dartmouth, is a slight favorite over the University Club at the Garden this evening in the third and rubber contest between these two amateur hockey rivals.

The club men beat the Crimson sextette last December, only to have the collegians reverse the decision last month. Tonight's battle will settle the issue regarding the supremacy between the twain.

Since the Dartmouth game on all its games Harvard has finally hit its stride. Harvard teams took a long time to get going, but when they did it was hitting on all cylinders it certainly functioned like the great Harvard hockey teams of the past decade.

It is this peppy up Crimson team that the University Club will be called upon to face this evening. Most of the clubmen were at the Dartmouth game and can tell you just what they are up against.

However, the unexpected fine showing of the Crimson has not dampened the hopes of the University Club team one iota and they are claiming a victory over the Crimson right now.

Coach Lou Tuck of the University Club team has been preparing for this battle for the last fortnight. He has ordered compulsory attendance at every practice and the former college men are taking the game with the same seriousness that characterized their college careers.

Tuck wants to win this series with Harvard. This accomplished, the University Club can call its season a success, regardless of the outcome of the games to come. The club coach is sticking to his regular lineup and feels that his great forward flank of Doug Everett, Johnny Chase and Clark Hodder will prove too strong for the Crimson.

He intends to use this as much as possible tonight giving little work to the wearers of the tutes. The same goes for the defense where the great Joe Fitzgerald and Dave Perry will be used most of the game.

Harvard plays Penn at Philadelphia on Friday but the coach intends using his spares most of that game and will put in his varsity against the University Club Saturday night. With the exception of Capt. Johnny Tudor, Stubbs has every man available for duty.

He is sticking to his rejuvenated line of Guy Holbrook, Elliot Putnam and Bobby Giddens.

Hub Skating Champs Retain Ice Titles

New York, Feb. 20 (INS)—Three national figure skating champions will retain their titles for another year as the result of the two-day competition just concluded here. All three are from Boston. They are Roger W. Turner, men's national singles champion; Miss Mirabel A. Vinson, in the women's singles, and Thornton Coolidge and Miss Vinson in the national senior pairs.

Three of the new champions also hail from Boston. They are Gerald Hill, national junior singles champion, and Richard Hapgood and Miss Dorothy Weld in the national junior pairs.

Veterans O. K.

North Adams, Feb. 20—The Veterans of Foreign Wars defeated Co. K in the first of a series of games for the Berkshire league pennant by the score of 39 to 24 here.

TUFTS QUINTET PLAYS CLARK TONIGHT

Tufts five, anxious to keep in its winning stride, will journey to Worcester tonight to play Clark. The Jumbos will be without the services of their star center, Red Butters, who is now on probation. Ernie Brehaut will jump center for the Jumbos and play guard on the defense.

The Jumbos showed fine form in their defeat of Wesleyan and are confident that they will be able to continue at this pace for the rest of the year, justifying the promise that they showed at the first of the season.

Fish Ellis and Winnie Horton will team up at the forward positions for the Jumbos. Horton has turned in fine performances in the last two games and appears to have arrived.

He has an eye for the basket which is surpassed by no one on the Tufts squad, unless it be Fish himself. He was high scorer for the Jumbos in the Wesleyan game.

The guard positions will be taken care of by Appianni and Dick Warren, who have started in every game this year. Lupien and Reese, two sophomores who have seen action in the last two Tufts games, are due to get into the game as guards.

'Irish Hockey' Makes Bow in Gotham

New York, Feb. 20 (INS)—Hurling, or "Irish hockey," will make its bow as an indoor sport at Madison Square Garden tonight when the champoin Offaly and Cork teams give an exhibition of Ireland's national game. Fifteen players on each side try to knock a ball between goal posts with sticks resembling hockey sticks. The ball may be struck while in the air.

Lowell Textile Wins Over Maine Five

Lowell, Feb. 20—The Lowell Textile Institute quintet returned to its home floor and defeated University of Maine, 31 to 24.

The game bristled with action from start to finish.

The Lowell team was in superb form, its games on the road with Harvard, Providence and Holy Cross having taught the boys much of the game.

CHAMPIONS IN TITLE EVENTS AT Y POOL

By GEORGE W. GRIMM

The New England A. A. U. in awarding four New England championships events to the Boston Swimming Association meet at the Boston Y pool on Washington's Birthday night, gives the B. S. A. meet plenty of title color.

This meet, open to men and women swimmers, brings out a galaxy of star performers. Many New England and national champions are to swim. The most prominent among the girls entered in the holiday night meet will be Albina Osipowich of Worcester, Jean McSheehy of Whitinsville and Katherine Mearls of the Boston Swimming Association.

ALBINA AT BEST

This meet will give the fans an opportunity to see Miss Osipowich at her best. During the recent Olympics held in Amsterdam last summer the Worcester mermaid copped the grand prize in the 100 meter championship against the girls from all nations.

Then later in the Olympic competition, Albina Osipowich swam on Uncle Sam's girls' relay team which won the first place and established a new mark for the coming champs to shoot at.

Friday night the Worcester girl will defend her 100 yards and 220 yards free style championship against a very capable group of girl swimmers.

DEFENDS TITLE

Katherine Mearls, New England record holder and national breast stroke champion, will defend her title in the 100 yards swim, against Mary Doherty, Virginia McAvoy and Ethel Carr, of the Boston Swimming Association: Delna Carlstrom, Worcester Boys' Club Auxiliary, and Joan McSheehy of the Whitinsville Community Association.

Joan McSheehy, New England 100 yards backstroke and medley champion and record holder, is entered in the 100 yards backstroke event.

MOREY CALLS PIONEER NINE

Dave Morey, newly appointed baseball coach at Boston University, will issue the initial call for candidates for the Pioneer varsity nine Monday afternoon. A large squad including many of the men to greet the new coach at the St. Botolph st. gym and out of this material Morey should mould together a strong team which should enjoy one of the best seasons in recent years at Boston University.

Although candidates for all positions will report Monday, the battery situation will receive the most attention for the first two weeks at least. Because of the limited space in the B. U. gym the infielders and outfielders will be forced to confine themselves to passing the ball among themselves.

Batting practice is out of the question and the hitters will have to wait until the squad gets outdoors at Riverside before they can take a cut at the ball.

Bill Meader and Arthur Murphy are the leading twirlers on the squad and will be relied on by Morey to get an early start for a strenuous campaign. Meader was the first string pitcher a year ago and enjoyed a great season on the mound. He is a big left hander with plenty of stuff and if he maintains his old form should twirl the Pioneers to many victories.

Murphy will make his first appearance in a B. U. uniform this spring, but he is an experienced twirler and will be counted on to take his turn in the box. Murphy was ineligible for the Pioneer nine a year ago as he was a transfer student from Dartmouth and was accordingly barred from all athletics because of the one-year rule.

Braves and Sox Both May Stay in One Park

Plans will be made soon for a new ball park in Boston to house both Braves and Red Sox. One large enough to hold 60,000 fans for baseball or to accommodate 100,000 at a championship boxing bout or for any other little sporting festivity, like a big college football game, which can attract a big throng.

This new park may be located at Braves Field, but the Wigwam may be done over to fill the bill.

The latest development, which makes it only a matter of time before the Sox and Braves get together under one roof, was an official announcement by Bob Quinn, president of the Red Sox.

In it he stated that he and President E. E. Fuchs of the Braves have completed a deal whereby the Sox will play their 13 scheduled Sunday games and three holidays of 1929 at the Wigwam.

The price of the use of Braves Field is not made public but it is a certainty that it is mutually agreeable and that there have been no qualms or dickerings or bickerings between the two teams.

Strong Teams Fight on Y Track Today

By DICK McSWEENEY

Worcester Academy and Huntington school, participants in the B. A. A. meet last Saturday, will hold a dual meet at the Boston Y today.

Worcester Academy has a great bunch of athletes wearing its colors, while Huntington demonstrated that it had some fine performers at the B. A. A.

Consequently, a large crowd of spectators is expected at the Y.

Samuel Brown and Frederick Gallagher are two fast dash men who run for Worcester Academy today. Ford and Duest will probably oppose these two crack fliers from the private school.

BLAKE FAST

Sailor Conley of Huntington will meet a tough opponent in the 600 yard run. He is called upon to defeat Jesse Blake, speedy Worcester runner.

McKay and Ferre are Worcester's hope in the 1000. Uniacke and Bailey of Huntington will get either of these Worcester athletes stiff competition.

The 300 yard run promises to be a close affair. Huntington has Blake. Worcester Academy has a great trio in Phil Shaw, Sam Brown and Frederick Gallagher.

The relay race should be one of the best attractions of the day. Jesse Blake, Philip O'Malley, Samuel Brown, and Franklin Peck will carry the baton for Worcester Academy, while Duest, Blake, C. Cicorella and Beasley run for Huntington.

HEALEY PUTS SHOT

Healey will toss the shot for Worcester in the weight hurling event. Stone of Huntington opposes him.

Healey may also take part in the running high jump. If he does compete he will face strong antagonists in John Kaveney and William Floring of Huntington School.

The Rivers School basketball team plays St. George's School five at Newport on Washington's Birthday. Coach Foster is looking for a hard battle with the Newport quintet. George Ames leads the Rivers basket squad this season.

There is a possibility that three school hockey games will be played at the Arena on Friday afternoon.

Arlington high and Walpole may clash after the round-robin contests between Cambridge Latin-Rindge Tech, and Newton-Melrose hockey teams.

Walpole has had a good season, winning all its games, while Arlington was a runner-up in the round-robin finals. While the present Arena program of round-robin contests is a good attraction, the addition of the Arlington-Walpole conflict would furnish more enjoyment for the fans.

There has been a steady demand for tickets for the Round-Robin conflicts. Faculty managers of the four schools participating in the ice series have asked for more pasteboards while the box-office sales are constantly growing.

Some real sportsman bought a block of 50 tickets for the Arena ice series and sent them to the Working Boys' Home for distribution there.

The Working Boys' Home has long supported hockey and its teams have ranked with the best around Boston. The lads are enthusiastic over the prospect of watching the round-robin playoff.

Newton Melrose, Cambridge Latin and Rindge are improving each shining hour by practicing strenuously for their Friday contests. The Arena has allotted daily practice sessions to each of the four teams.

Basketball skirmishes today bring together the following contests: Worcester Academy at Harvard Fresh, Beverly at Gloucester, Arlington at Stoneham, Newburyport at Essex Aggies, Providence Tech at St. George's school, Bourne at Tabor Academy, Huntington at Dummer Academy and Johnson at Wilmington.

Hockey trays are scheduled between the following sextets: Hebron at St. Dom's, Weston; Milton Academy at Newton Country and Harvard Seconds at Cambridge Latin.

Frank L. Alciere, faculty manager at Somerville high, has announced that there are three openings on the Somerville basketball schedule. Alciere would like to book games for Saturday, April 13 Wednesday, May 1, and saturday May 25.

Passing the Puck

By BILL GRIMES

Dave Ritchie pulled the prize boner of the season, when he allowed Eddie Shore's goal to count, after he had blown his whistle for a foul committed by Jess Spring.

Ritchie's error gave the Bruins a very hollow 1 to 0 victory over the Pirates.

Cooney Weiland started the play that caused all the trouble. He went down center ice, slipped through Spring and McCaffrey and was racing in on Joe Miller when Spring hooked him from behind. Ritchie blew his whistle for Spring's foul but Shore grabbed the puck, went around the Pittsburgh goal, and scored.

As soon as Ritchie blew his whistle, which stopped the play, the Pirates relaxed and it was a simple matter for Shore to carry the puck, for he met with no opposition. The Pirates had every reason in the world to expect a whistle at the point of the foul but instead Ritchie allowed the goal and faced off at center ice.

Under the rules, the play stopped with the whistle. Also, Spring's foul called for a major penalty. There is nothing in the rules which allows a referee to award a goal under the circumstances.

Although Pittsburgh has grounds for a protest, Manager Odie Cleghorn, realizing that there is no chance of winning his point, was content to allow the error to pass.

Had the officials been on the job in the second period they would have awarded Pittsburgh a goal when Tiny Thompson threw his stick as Frank Fredrickson came in on him for what appeared to be a sure fire goal. Instead they allowed that breech of the rules to pass unnoticed.

It was one of the slowest and most uninteresting games of the season. The Bruins did not look one bit better than the Pirates, and between them they did not show enough class to warrant them being in a major league.

The Maroons slipped over a 1-to-0 victory over the Americans last night in New York and jumped back into a third-place tie with the Maple Leafs. The Americans played their usual safety first game but they trailed the Montreal outfit from the middle of the first period.

It leaked out that Dutch Gainor was offered to the Pittsburgh Pirates recently. For some unexplained reason, Gainor does not fit with the powers that be of the Bruins, regardless of the fact that he is the brainiest player on the squad.

Everett Scott Starts 20th Ball Season

Reading, Pa., Feb. 20 (INS)—Everett Scott, former "iron man" of the major leagues, is entering his 21st season in professional baseball. The veteran shortstop has signed as utility infielder and coach of the local International League team.

Scott set a record by playing in 1307 consecutive games in the American League.

Read the Boston Evening American Sports Pages for Best Sharkey-Stribling Fight Stories

A week from tonight, Jack Sharkey of Boston and W. L. "Young" Stribling of Atlanta, Ga., will meet at Miami, Fla., in one of the most important heavyweight battles in recent years.

Local interest in the tussle is at a high pitch and is growing greater every day.

Every flatic fan in New England would like to be at the ringside in Miami when the battle begins; if it were possible. Unfortunately, comparatively few of them will be able to personally witness the encounter.

The countless thousands who can't, however, will not be as badly off as they may imagine.

For the Boston Evening American will have a stellar all-star cast of ring experts on the scene, and will furnish its readers with a complete account of every angle of the bout.

Jack Conway, boxing editor of the Boston Evening American and the country's foremost boxing authority, will furnish a blow-by-blow account and an expert ringside story of the bout.

Nick Flatley, sports editor of the Boston Evening American, will supply inimitable sidelights.

Damon Runyon, famous sports critic, will paint a word picture of the affair as only he can.

"Gentleman Jim" Corbett, former world's heavyweight champion, will describe the strong and weak points of each fighter and compare them with the great heavies of the past.

And Sharkey and Stribling, the principals themselves, will complete the account by giving their versions of the fray.

Not a single blow will be struck nor an incident happen but what will be seen by one or all of the Boston Evening American's "Big Six," and everything that takes place will be described in full by them on these pages.

Thus, for the insignificant sum of two cents, the great army of stay at-homes can learn as much, if not more, about the battle than the majority of those attending it.

Don't put it off. Go to your newsdealer today and order your copy of the Boston Evening American reserved. If you fail, you will probably find the supply exhausted, for the demand for the accounts of the "Big Six" is certain to be tremendous.

And while you're waiting for the big night we suggest that you follow the pre-battle activities as reported daily by Jack Conway, Mr. Boston, Jack Sharkey and Young Stribling on these pages.

Lou Magnolia to Referee Sharkey-Stribling Go

BRASSILL ALTERNATE REFEREE

Magnolia O. K. With Both Fighters; His Choice Really a Break for Sharkey

By JACK CONWAY

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 20—Lou Magnolia of New York will be the third man in the ring when Jack Sharkey and Young Stribling battle in a 10-round bout at the Flamingo Park arena a week from tonight.

Magnolia was agreed upon as the official for the contest following a conference between members of the Miami Beach Boxing Commission, Jack Dempsey, Johnny Buckley and Pa Stribling.

Jack Conway

Johnny Brassill of Cambridge was selected as alternate.

When Buckley and Pa Stribling had previously been unable to come to terms on the question of the referee the Massachusetts Boxing Commission, in compliance with the contracts of the rival boxers, had named Johnny Brassill and Jack Sheehan as referees.

Pa Stribling said he consulted Matchmaker Eddie Mack of the Boston Garden as to the qualifications of Brassill and Sheehan for the job as referee.

He said he was informed that Brassill was a personal friend of Johnny Buckley's and that Joe O'Connor would be the only Massachusetts man to referee when Young Stribling was sure to receive an even break.

Pa Stribling said that after talking with Mack he called Boxing Commissioner Eugene Buckley of Massachusetts on the telephone and asked that somebody other than a Massachusetts man be named as referee.

The members of the Miami boxing commission declined they were pleased that Brassill had they received from the Massachusetts ring board but that in view of disagreement on the question of the referee they felt official from a State other than Massachusetts or Georgia should have charge of hostilities.

AGREE ON MAGNOLIA

After a heated argument, in which Johnny Buckley at first declared he would stand on his contract, the parties finally got together and agreed upon Lou Magnolia.

I think the new order of things is a good break for Sharkey. If there was a Massachusetts referee, it would be charged that the Boston contender was getting the best of things. The Striblings would be in a position to make a protest if Sharkey won a close decision or was declared the winner on a foul.

With a neutral referee in charge of affairs, Sharkey will get the proper amount of credit in the event he wins. Buch would not be the case with a Massachusetts man on the job. The Striblings would set up the cry of a home town decision.

Pirates to Play In Hub March 16

On March 16, the Cleghorn brothers, Odie and Sprague, will have their respective hockey teams in action in Boston. The final Pittsburgh Bruin game and the windup of the Newark-Tiger series have been transferred to the Boston Garden and Boston Arena, respectively. Although this Bruin Pirate shift was arranged a week ago, no official announcement has yet been made.

Sharkey Wants Bout With Tiger Jack

By Jack Sharkey

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 20—I am so confident of defeating Young Stribling here on February 27 that I am already looking forward to my next match.

Johnny Buckley, my manager, has signed a contract with the Madison Square Garden Corporation which gives them the option on my next bout in the event I trounce Stribling.

Under the terms of this contract I am to receive a guarantee of $100,000 with the privilege of accepting 25 per cent of the gate receipts.

Buckley and myself have held several conferences with Bill Carey, vice-president of Madison Square Garden Corp., in regard to a possible opponent who must be named under the terms of the contract by July 15. The bout itself must be staged before September 10.

There is one man I would rather clash with this year than anybody else. He is Jack Dempsey. I have told Carey to sign Dempsey and that I would be ready.

THE greatest of my ambitions is to prove that I am master of the former champion. Dempsey has told me I almost knocked him out in the first round of our fight at the Yankee Stadium.

Next time I will complete the job. I will do so by boxing Dempsey rather than swapping punches with him. I shall bank my speed and skill, backed by a solid punch against Dempsey's advancing years I feel sure youth will prevail.

Gus Wilson, Dempsey's trainer has told me he has informed the former champion that he could get close to $750,000 fighting me. Wilson is of the opinion Dempsey and myself would draw $2,000,000 and furnish more thrills than any other heavyweight contest.

If I should win from Stribling and Dempsey I have one more ambition as far as the boxing game is concerned. I would like to see Gene Tunney come back so that I could fight him and prove I am his master.

TUNNEY was matched with me in March, 1926. The bout was to have been staged by Tex Rickard at Madison Square Garden. Gene figured I was an inexperienced boxer. I then made my Garden debut by giving Eddie Huffman a boxing lesson.

Rickard later notified me he was unable to get Tunney to sign to meet me.

Just before my bout with Dempsey, I was fanning with Tex in regard to my proposed bout with Tunney.

"I had Gene signed to meet you," said Tex, "but after I saw the way you handled Huffman I was afraid you would ruin him on me and my proposed Tunney-Dempsey match would be overboard. So I told the boxing commission I couldn't get Tunney to sign.

"As a matter of fact, I had his signed contract, but I managed to lose it."

I felt I should have got the Tunney shot last year. Instead Gene hand-picked Tom Heeney and gave him a boxing lesson as everybody knew he would do.

I WAS tipped more than a year ago that Tunney would never meet me if he could avoid doing so. He is a keen student of boxing and figured I had the style which would beat him.

WRESTLERS TO CONFER ON RULINGS

Just how the catch-as-catch-can rules that will govern the big fray between Joe Malcewicz and Joe Stecher set for tomorrow night in the Boston Arena shall be interpreted will be thrashed out today between Promoter Paul Bowser, Referee Leon Burbank and the principals.

The particular point involved concerns the tangling of a contestant with the boundary ropes surrounding the mat, all of which has given rise to several questions that both Malcewicz and Stecher want decided before the fray starts.

Ordinarily, when rope entanglements occur, or one or both men get near or partially under, the ropes, a contest is stopped and the contestants come to the center of the mat, both on their feet, and resume wrestling.

Sometimes, though, both come to the center of the canvas, the hold that had been secured by the aggressor at the time of the stopping is retaken. Other times a bout continues despite the ropes, except that one or both men happen to be actually outside the ring.

Therefore, the who, what, which and why of the rules that will govern certain possible aspects of tomorrow night's fray will be ironed out today.

Penn Five Beats Yale to Hold League Lead

New Haven, Ct., Feb. 20 (INS)—Penn's undefeated basketball team is determined to make a clean sweep in the Eastern Intercollegiate Basketball League this season. The Quakers hung up their sixth straight league victory here last night when they defeated Yale, 28 to 20. Capt. Joey Schaaf, the league's highest scorer, registered 14 points for Penn.

The Elis, who had been tied with Dartmouth and Cornell for second place, dropped to fourth.

Braves Mound Staff in Real Workout

St Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 20—A very nearly complete and strong looking Braves battery squad went through the first real workout of the baseball season here today.

The first day or so meant limbering up exercises, though the boys were tossing the ball around.

But the arrival of Bob Smith, Art Delaney and Henry Wertz, here, with Zack Taylor, veteran catcher, rounded out the battery roster to such a degree that the Braves board of strategy had the pitchers step on the rubber today and throw the ball in without too much speed.

Smith seems to be in better condition than any of the athletes who have stepped around Waterfront Park thus far. He is close to his proper playing weight and is entirely lacking in any of the general softness that most ball players allow to overtake them during the winter months.

CAPABLE PITCHER

Bobby was one of the most able Braves pitchers last season and with such a healthy start, he should have an even better year.

The young man picked up a lot of extra mound knowledge last year which he lacked at first.

And with Hank Gowdy to coach him, Smith may be one of the hurling kings of the year.

Walter Gautreau is working out with the Braves. He breezed into camp with his wife and baby after having driven from Boston.

And though he goes to Montreal this year, the Judge is giving the little infielder the advantage of a spring training stretch with the Braves, at the expense of the Boston club.

POPULAR BOY

Walter always was popular with the players and owners of the Braves, and though under no obligation to pay for a training trip in Florida for the Cambridge boy, Judge Fuchs was glad to offer the stay in Florida.

To date the boys here have shown no signs of any illness, with the exception of Bunny Hearn. He contracted grippe, probably while coming South, and is confined to his room in the hotel.

Bunny is recovering rapidly, however, and unless unforeseen complications develop, will be back with the squad in a few days.

TIGERS FACE TOUGH TEAMS

If Boston Tigers can win five of their remaining 12 games they are certain to attain the Canadian American League playoff.

However, the race with as close that mathematical certainty is a long way off. Philadelphia, New Haven and Newark will have a chance to get in if all or any of them should start a winning spurt.

Tigers will take walking jumps toward mathematical certainty, however, if they campaign victoriously the balance of the week the four days which begin tonight, will be the hardest stretch in the Tiger schedule.

Slattery Accepts Terms

New York, Feb. 20 (INS)—Jimmy Slattery, Buffalo light heavyweight, has accepted terms for a ten-round bout with James J. Braddock of Jersey City, at Madison Square Garden on March 11.

Bouts Last Night

By The Associated Press

Indianapolis—Speed Myers, Pocatello, Idaho, outpointed Harry Kid Brown, Philadelphia, (10). Jackie London, Chicago, knocked out Jimmie Brown, Cincinnati, (5).

Wilkesbarre, Pa.—Mickey Doyle, Pittston, knocked out Frankie Garcia, Utica, N. Y. (1). Maxie Rosenbloom, New York, outpointed Garfield Johnson, Pittsburgh (10).

Cleveland—Johnny Datto, Philippine Islands, and Phil Ewick, Cleveland, no contest (6). Bob Moody, Pittsburgh, knocked out Jack Hubat, Buffalo (1).

Mack Denies "Pa" Stribiing's Story

Matchmaker Eddie Mack of the Boston Gardens today flatly denied making the statement ascribed to him by Pa Stribling that neither Johnny Brassil nor Jack Sheehan are capable of refereeing the Sharkey-Stribling bout which takes place a week from tonight in Miami.

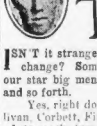
"Pa Stribling called me on the phone last Sunday," said Mack, "and I told him that I thought that Joe O'Connor was a fine referee.

"When Pa Stribling told Jack Dempsey, Johnny Buckley and others that I said Johnny Brassil was no good and that Jack Sheehan was too old, he lied.

"You can tell the whole world that Pa Stribling lied. I hold nothing against either Johnny Brassil or Jack Sheehan. I merely mentioned that Joe O'Connor was one of the best referees in Massachusetts.

"It seems to me that Pa Stribling tipped a fast one over and used my name as a blackjack to get away from accepting a Massachusetts arbiter. Again I say they are the senior Stribling lied."

My sole interest in boxing is the Boston Garden. I care not what happens in New York, Miami or any other place. I am merely the matchmaker here at the Boston Garden and that calls for me to produce boxing bouts that will be satisfactory to the fight followers and make money for the Boston Garden. It requires all my time to do this. "I repeat, Pa Stribling's story about my estimate of Jack Sheehan and Johnny Brassil is all a lie. I wanted a Massachusetts man to get the assignment because they know at all times rendered just verdicts and I am for the home State boys."



TAD'S TIDBITS

ISN'T it strange the way the names of the heavyweight stars change? Some years ago, and then further back than that, our star big men were known as John, Tom, Jim, Peter, Jack and so forth.

Yes, right down to the days of Sullivan. We had then Sullivan, Corbett, Fitzsimmons, Maher, Sharkey and Jackson.

Later on the boys were Joe, Jack, Sam, Jess, Jim, and the like. Those men were Choynski, Dempsey, Willard, Johnson, Langford, Barry and others.

But do you get the monickers of the stars of today?

Otto and Meyer and Max.

Isn't that a riot?

The three hardest hitters and biggest cards in the heavyweight class today tote those monickers.

Otto Von Porat, Meyer Christner and Max Schmelling.

Sounds like a bit from Webber and Fields cast of characters, doesn't it?

The bouts are becoming like a Weber and Fields act, too.

That one at Miami is the nearest to Joe and Lew so far.

Friday night, however, Christner oh, Yes Meyer, meets upside down —that is Paulino Uzcudoweh. If he flattens the Spanish onion he'll be a card that will be worth signing up.

DEAR TAD:

How all weights and all classes have gone up. Years ago the flyweight was 105 pounds. Back in 1887-88 Nunnans, 110. George Dixon won the featherweight title in 1892-3 at 118. In 1908, Owen Moran and Abe Attell fought at 122.

Both were draws, as the men were the most evenly matched I have ever seen in the hundreds of battles I have witnessed. Attell fought Johnny Kilbane at the featherweight limit of 126 pounds. Jack McAuliffe won his title at 133 by knocking Billie Myers and English Jimmy Carroll. Gans and Nelson fought at 133 pounds for the title.

The welterweight class originated in 1887. The late Ed Blanchard, of Boston made the weight limit 140 to 142. The late Paddy Duffy, of Boston beat Tom Meadows, of Australia, at 140 at the Old Cal A. C. in 40 rounds.

Then it drifted down to George Dawson of Australia; Tom Williams, "Mysterious Billie" and Tommy Ryan. Now the weight is 147 pounds.

The present holder, Joe Dundee who has been tossed out of more rings for not throwing his punches and who was cut by Jack Thompson, is the poorest welterweight title-holder the class has ever known.

The middleweight division was 154 pounds. Back in 1887-8-9 the late Jack Dempsey lost the title to the late Bob Fitzsimmons at 154 pounds. Best was about 147. Fitz weighed 153¾ pounds. Now the weight is 160 pounds.

There was no light heavy class years ago. Charlie Mitchell was best at 154-156 pounds. The late Dominic McCaffery never weighed 160. The late Pete McCoy never reached 156.

Great fighters forgotten in present ring records. The late Jack Burke, the original Irish lad, was best at about 158. He met Sullivan.

OVER in the lobby of the Garden the other night a bunch of the boys were talking about tough featherweights. Among the five toughest they mentioned was the late Oscar Gardiner.

There was some discussion as to his record, so the writer has dug up his best fights, which we print below.

He knocked out Jerry Marshall, Sammy Kelly, Eddie Santry, Dave Sullivan and Harry Forbes.

He won decisions over Australian Billy Murphy, Solly Smith, Martin Flaherty, Joe Bernstein and Kid Broad.

He fought a draw with Austin Rice, Patsey Haley, Jack O'Brien, Johnny van Heest, Tommy White and Eugene Bezenah.

He lost decisions to George Dixon, Marty McCue, Tommy Dixon, Billy O'Donnell.

He was knocked out by Terry McGovern, Young Corbett and Tim Callahan.

B. A. A. BEST IN GARDEN GAMES

Entry of Leo Lermond in the Riggs mile and Bob Dalrymple in the Walter Scott two-mile led the B. A. A. entries that were sent in for the Scotch games to be held down in the Garden next Friday evening.

Jack Ryder advised Lermond to go after the mile and Dalrymple the two miles, so it assures these events of being well contested.

Lermond is being picked to win the Riggs mile, especially if he can show the form he did in New York while the former Dartmouth runner will not have such easy pickings for he will be competing against Edvin Wide, the Swedish champion, and Ed Andersen, the Finlander, in the longer race.

Inquest Ordered in Boxer's Death

Cortland, N. Y., Feb. 20 (AP)—An inquest is to be held Thursday in the death of Edward T. Hammond, 25, of Syracuse, former army boxer, who was fatally injured in the first round of a bout with Tudy Morris of Cortland here last night.

Hammond fell to the floor after a few seconds of fighting. Efforts to revive him failed and he was taken to a hospital, but was dead when he arrived.

After an autopsy Coroner Claude E. Chein announced death was due to pulmonary collapse, probably caused by a blow to the solar

Rupture Button, Amazing Discovery, Brings Ohio Scientist International Fame

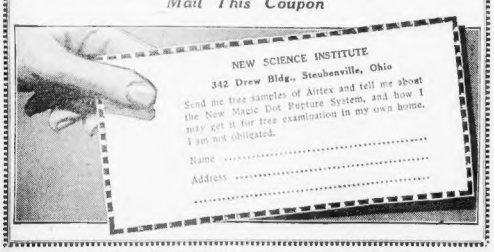
WORLD FAMED RUPTURE SCIENTIST

His remarkable rupture discovery has brought fame in almost every corner of the globe to the Ohio scientist, John G. Homan. His tiny invention called Magic Dot, really revolutionizes the treatment of rupture. Mr. Homan spent years of research for a way to do away with the cruel, cumbersome cushions, gouging springs, enormous buckles and heavy, soiled leg straps that millions of ruptured people have had to put up with since the dark ages. As stated below, he is now sending his device to ruptured people everywhere free to see in their own homes.

HOME OF MAGIC DOT

This queer little button-shaped device is made in the laboratories of the New Science Institute at Steubenville, Ohio. Here, under the personal supervision of Mr. Homan, ruptured people from all over the United States and many foreign countries are having this System prepared to their personal measurements. Thousands of letters and grateful thanks come to Mr. Homan from ruptured people to whom he has been so instrumental in bringing new happiness. Some of these letters are here reproduced.

Clever Sample FREE If You Mail This Coupon

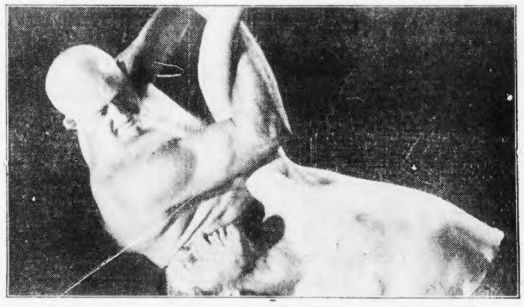


NEW SCIENCE INSTITUTE
342 Drew Bldg., Steubenville, Ohio
Send me free samples of Airtex and tell me about the New Magic Dot Rupture System, and how I may get it for free examination in my own home. I am not obligated.
Name .....
Address .....
.....

For a limited time in order that ruptured people everywhere may be induced to find out about this revolutionary system, a free sample of Airtex will be sent to those who mail the coupon above. But you should act at once. You will get full details and illustrations of the System. Mr. Homan will also send you a blank which will enable you to secure the device to see, in your home. We urge everyone interested to mail the coupon at once while this offer is being made. Address New Science Institute, 342 Drew Bldg., Steubenville, Ohio.

PHYSICIANS PRAISE MAGIC DOT

Like other physicians, Dr. J. B. Watkinshaw, of Wellsburg, West Virginia, praises the Homan invention. After explaining how it worked, he said: "It is a remarkable invention. I have never seen anything before that so sets the stage to help Nature cure a reducible rupture."



RUPTURED WRESTLER THROWS AWAY TRUSS

T. B. Cannon, of San Bernardino, is one of the many ruptured people who highly praise this great new relief. He had tried various types of trusses before he heard about the Magic Dot method. Now he teaches boxing and wrestling. Here is a splendid example that typifies the success with which Magic Dot has met among ruptured people who test it under the most severe conditions. Ruptured people are urged to fill out and send the request blank in the lower left hand corner of this page in order to get full details of the System, and the special free inspection offer now being made by its inventor.

AMAZINGLY TINY

It is almost impossible to conceive that a device so small that it can be concealed by the two fingers of your hand makes it possible to safely retain large and severe hernias. Magic Dot actually weighs less than one twenty-fifth of an ounce. It is certainly strikingly different from the old-fashioned, cumbersome, heavy, ill-fitting, ineffectual devices designed for a similar purpose.

SENT TO RUPTURED FOR FREE EXAMINATION

Here is Mr. Homan's unusual offer. If you will fill out and mail the coupon at the left, he will send you a full description of Magic Dot, Airtex, and his remarkable system. Then, if you wish, you can receive the complete outfit to see in your own home without risking a cent.

RUPTURE CAN'T SLIP

Swimmers, athletes, golfers, people who engage in strenuous exercises or work, praise this new way to retain and heal rupture. It is possible to run, jump, bend in comfort—without the annoyance of wearing bulky, unsightly hamlike cushions or gouging pads. Ruptured people say they now have no hesitancy about moving quickly or sleeping in any position. In the lower left hand corner of the page is reproduced a form which brings to ruptured people full details of Mr. Homan's invention and his free order.

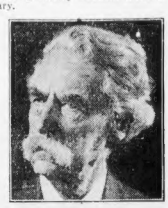
BREATHES AIR

Mr. Homan's new System is really a twin invention. Almost as wonderful as Magic Dot is the Airtex "cup" which fits over the rupture and actually "breathes" air. The illustration above, showing the bubbles coming from Airtex immersed in water, demonstrates how it literally breathes with the body. Also, how it is washable and sanitary.

Ruptured Man

Rows Across Mississippi

A ruptured St. Louis man tells how he has found relief at last after eighteen years. To prove his freedom from any cruel truss, he rowed a skiff across the Mississippi river, two miles up-stream against wind and choppy water. But he is only one of thousands reporting the end of rupture torture.



For Old

One man, 80 years old, and who has been ruptured 32 years, reports relief at last from cruel trusses. He says, "I have been trimming the lawn, working on my knees. Magic Dot and Airtex were right in place." Mr. Homan stands ready and willing to send older people the New Science System for free examination to their homes if they will write him.

Six-Day Novel by a Famous Author

[illegible] Ker, ex-Chicago [illegible] vacation [illegible] Reigs Grange, a country estate in England. Cicely Fenner, his young niece, keeps house for him and is in love with Jack Shirley, struggling young playwright and neighbor.

Dr. Lengate, a neighbor, and Basil Mostyn, a great friend of Jack's, both propose to Cicely. Lengate's expression after her refusal as she sees his reflection in a mirror frightens her. Jack is already married to a drunkard known as Three-Fingered Anne. Basil tells Cicely this and offers to do all he can to help Shirley when she tells him she cannot return his love.

Anne is burned to death in a garage and Cicely and Jack are married. She becomes fascinated with a legend of a hidden hoard in The Knoll, Jack's old house, which they have much difficulty in maintaining owing to lack of money. Basil scouts the idea. Meanwhile Ker goes back to America and Jack sells his play to a London manager.

You [illegible]
Did you ever mix dates with [illegible]
with the apple
All these are variations which will tell you just how to make them.

APPLE AND DATE PIE

Add ½ c. chopped dates and 2 beaten egg yolks to 2½ c. of apple sauce. Add a few grains of salt, 1 tsp. of lemon juice and pour into a lower crust. Bake in hot oven, 450 deg. for 10 minutes, then lower to 325 deg. for 20 minutes. Remove from oven, cool slightly and cover with a meringue made from [illegible] beaten stiff with [illegible] confectioners' sugar. Return to the oven until [illegible] balls, at 350 deg. for 15 minutes. Serve cold.

APPLE SAUCE PIE WITH CHEESE TOPPING

Season 2½ c. of apple sauce with ¼ tsp. clove and pour into a pastry-lined pie tin. Dot with 1 tbsp. butter and bake 10 minutes in a hot oven (450 deg. F.) and for 20 minutes more at 350 deg. Cool. Beat ⅓ c. cream, add 1 cream cheese which has been forced through a sieve and pile this combination on the pie when it is very cold. Plain whipped cream may be flavored with lemon extract, sweetened to taste, and piled on the pie, instead of the cream and cheese mixture if desired.

PINEAPPLE APPLE

Drain syrup from half a No. 2 can of crushed pineapple. To it add 2 tbsps. flour mixed with 4 tbsps. sugar, few grains salt, 1 tbsp lemon juice, 1 tbsp. butter and 2 tbsps. maraschino cherry juice. Cook until thick, stirring constantly. Add the pineapple from half the can, 2 tbsps. chopped maraschino cherries, and half of a No. 2 can of apple sauce. Pour into a lower crust, cover with an upper crust and bake —450 deg.—for 10 minutes, and 350 deg. for about 20 minutes more. Be sure to save the syrup from the pineapple for use in sauces or fruit cocktails another day.

Faithfully yours,

Martha Lee

Black Satin in Mid-Season Coat

THE sleek black satin coat warmly interlined and so liked by French women, is seen not only during the spring, but fall days, and is worn in Paris up to the very edge of winter. This weight of coat naturally is a little impractical for such extended wear in America, but is very comfortable when the Easter season begins. Perhaps for the reason of its rarity in domestic fashion circles it is always an attractive type of coat.

Satin and wool coats alike are [illegible] adorned with such long haired furs as badger and natural [illegible] licht-toned fur particularly striking against the high sheen of black satin. It thus appears that the penchant of this type of trimming will continue during the early part of the spring season.

Generously [illegible] you please such slender [illegible] to [illegible] to search to the [illegible] sylph-like line. The designer of a coat depends upon the wrapping and the cutting to invest it with variety in style. Slot, flat and welt seams all come in as tailored details and often are combined in one garment to achieve freedom in diversity.

Germaine Lecomte covers several style points in the coat illustrated here in back view. This is of black satin; it follows the slender line; blase folds of graduated size encircle the garment for decorative details; one fold which begins at the left shoulder winds down and around the entire length of the coat ending at the hem of the front closing. The cut of the fabric includes the kimono sleeve and the upper part in one section on each side and makes the fold of the material bias.

Badger generously is used for a choker collar and full gauntlet cuffs to accentuate all the more a slenderness of the model.

There are belts and there are belts. Whether a coat is belted or beltless is a matter of divided importance. One of Worth's most successful coats is straight and belted. Lucien Lelong used both types, although where a belt is shown it is usually a partial effect either at the front or back.

This semi-belted idea is illustrated in the coat pictured from Marcel Rochas—of medium green velour with shawl collar and cuffs of natural lynx.

The belt which extends three quarters of the way around the hipline is edged at the fastening with black patent leather, a motif repeated on the pockets.

HAVE you a college education? If not—why not?

No, we can't employ anyone who hasn't been through college—that's what the young fellow who is looking for a job hears on every side, so the young fellow tells me.

He's a bright young fellow, quick and smart, energetic, not a lazy bone in his body. He knows all about motors, engines, airships, submarines and baseball. He can box, row a boat, can swim, and he can run races. He can dance and he can talk. He ought to be a good salesman, a good business man, a good bank clerk, with a chance to rise.

BUT, no—he can't even get a chance.

All because when they send him the questionnaire, he has to say, "No, I never went to college."

"And what difference does that make?" says the young fellow who is looking for a job. "I don't have to read Latin to know how to add up a column of figures. Why do I [illegible] know all the ancient [illegible] to sell tractors or [illegible] I [illegible] seem sort of queer, [illegible] and a little bit unfair. THE whole effect of a college education is to get a man away from the ordinary humdrum, must have the class and into the theoretical professional class.

Then what's he going to do if he has to work buying and selling and marketing and trading just like a fellow who has never been beyond the high school grade?

I know a woman who never can get over the fact that her one dear son didn't go to college yet that one dear son has stepped right ahead over the heads of three perfectly good college men.

College isn't meant as a practical aid to making a living in it? I always thought a man went to college to broaden and deepen his mind.

A MAN yearns to read at college. And the man who reads has 10 times as many amusing hours than the man who doesn't read. He ought to be a better, broader, more tolerant and more intelligent than the man who doesn't go to college—but, is he?

Splendid Recipe To Stop A Cough That "Hangs On"

The best cough remedy that money could buy, can easily be made at home. It saves money and gives you the most reliable quick-acting medicine you ever used. I've used it many times to break severe coughs and head colds, giving immediate relief, astonishing.

Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Put it in a pint measure and fill up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or strained honey instead of sugar syrup if you prefer. Start taking it at once and notice how quickly this clears right up. It is truly astonishing how it penetrates and heals the inflamed membranes. At the same time it stimulates the appetite, helps digestion and tones and builds up the whole system. Within a few hours you should feel that even a severe cough is conquered or at least on the way to quick relief. You can't lose.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine extract, rich in guaiacol and well known for its prompt effect in relieving coughs, bronchial irritations and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Mr. Gad-fly gets music of a sort from his piggery; dulemers could not make more din. He gets cry enough, but not wool to stop his ears. A girl who lost her eyelashes in a dance hall fire is suing for $50,000.

The defense will attempt to prove that it is impossible to use that much mascara.

This will bring up the interesting point of just how much a well trained pair of eyelashes is worth to a girl.

The only way to definitely settle the question is to to give her time to grow another crop and then see how much she can get out of the jury.

3-MINUTE TRIPS

By TEMPLE MANNING

If your itinerary takes you to Northern or Central Europe this summer, a day or two in one of the picturesque "mushroom states" which sprang up so suddenly out of the dark night that enveloped Europe between 1914 and 1918 may prove both novel and interesting.

Lithuania, for example, is somewhat off the beaten path of the usual tourist, yet for genuine and unaffected simplicity of background and unique charm of local custom, the jaded traveler may search far and find less.

In the strictest sense, Lithuania is no new state created out of the uncertainties of war-time readjustment. It is, as a matter of fact, one of the oldest of Europe's sovereign powers, and for several centuries occupied a position of extraordinary importance in the affairs of the world.

In the event that you decide to visit Kovno or another of the Lithuanian towns, be prepared to find amazing evidences of the resourcefulness of a people whose native spirit and racial pride withstood four years of utter devastation during the war.

But if their public works are modern, the natives themselves show no evidence of having changed since the glorious days of the fourteenth century when they were citizens of a great world power. The people are, for the most part, agriculturists, and live on their own holdings.

BAER FACTS

by Arthur "Bugs" Baer

COVENANTS, openly arrived at, announce that the Prince of Wales intends to give up horseback riding.

For sale. One saddle. Practically new.

This news is startling to everybody but the hoss.

Especially so because it arrives just after Eddie had won his last steeplechase on foot.

His delayed decision is due to confusion in military circles.

The Prince is a colonel in the cavalry.

But only a captain in the infantry.

He was losing rank with every steeplechase.

His riding was making conversation difficult. Going over the Liverpool Jump, Lord Tillinghast would say:

"Colonel—I mean captain—"

It is not financial stress that is causing Eddie to give up his hosses.

He has plenty of money.

In fact, the last time we saw Eddie ride a hoss, he was very well off.

While this may sound peculiar to the English, the Prince's popularity in America was due to his Morse-code style of riding.

First there was a dash, then a dot, then a dash. We loved the dots because they indicated where Eddie climbed on again.

Dempsey's popularity dates from the time he was knocked out of the ring by Firpo and crawled in again. Phil Scott was knocked out by Knute Hansen, but won his other fights later on. Scott can fight in America any time he desires.

Even though Eddie may have studied hoss-back riding in the Lost and Found columns, we hope that he keeps on riding.

A Prince is a Prince whether he inherits the crown or a paper hoop.

Combining horseback with settling-up exercises may be an excess of athletics.

The next time Eddie visits America the Niagara of cheering will drown the trickle of neighing.

MARIAN NIXON TO GET ROLE IN JOLSON FILM

By LUCELLA O. PARSONS
Copyright, 1929 by Universal Service.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 20—Charles Kaley has the distinction of being the only actor to be signed for a part in the movies through a phonograph record. His agent took a record of his voice and carried the record to Irving Thalberg. "If he looks like he sings," said Irving, "he ought to be valuable for the talkies." A test proved that the young man need not sing to be noticed. He has youth and he has looks.

Young Kaley was formerly a member of Abe Lyman's Orchestra and he used to sing on movie nights at the Coconaut Grove when the stars were all out in gala attire and he responded to an encore and was complimented for his singing.

I almost forgot to mention the chief point of my story. This same agent insisted that he run the phonograph while Thalberg was looking at the test. Smart boy, that agent! I might have him myself if I were trying to get a job in the movies.

It seems likely young Kaley will make his debut in "Lord Byron of Broadway," with Norma Talmadge and Maxon Holmes. Although Thalberg said that was subject to change.

AL JOLSON is one actor who gets what he wants when he wants it. Both he and his wife who looked at the leads for his next picture, "The Singing Fool," thought Marian Nixon was the best suited to the part. The singer has only one woman is bigger in this Jolson talkie than in any of his previous pictures. Hence the importance attached to getting the right actress.

Miss Nixon is making "Headlines" at Warners studio and she should be in time to begin work on "Sonny Boy" or whatever they are going to call the next Jolson opera. At any rate, the shoehorn narrowed down to Miss Nixon and unless someone has another bright thought at the last minute she will get this role that has had everyone at Warner Studios, from Darryl Zanuck to the gateman, casting speculative eyes at possible candidates.

EVEN New York's most eligible bachelors would consider a visit to Los Angeles useless without a chance to meet the fair members of the film colony. When Tommy Hitchcock's polo team exhibition games in town some of our screen stars Bessie Love promised to see that the boys did not leave Hollywood without a chance to hear Lily Damita's accent, admire Claire Windsor's beauty and enjoy Renee Adoree's coquetry.

Bessie kept her word and gave a party that will go down in Filmland as one of the smartest social events of the season. The Garden of Allah, closed for the past few months, opened its doors especially for the buffet supper and dance, when the polo team, consisting of those were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hitchcock, Jack Whitney, Laddie Seaman, Will Lewis, George Moore, Dr. Burgess, M. Pine and others.

WHERE do you think Richard Barthelmess and his bride are at the moment? In Palm Beach sunning themselves on the boardwalk and taking a dip in the sea waves. No, indeed, they are in Mexico City taking a tour through Mexico and visiting the movie theaters where pictures are shown. Dick is popular in Mexico and he is probably getting a reception which will delight his soul. He is having a long vacation before he begins work again.

THE sudden passing of William S. Russell was a great shock to his friends in Hollywood who did not even know that he was sick. He looked so in the pink of health and exercised so consistently that it did not seem possible that even pneumonia could take him off with so little warning. His wife, Helen Ferguson, who has been playing with the Henry Duffy players in San Francisco, arrived home too late to see her husband alive.

Poor Bill Russell was another one who was harassed almost to the point of a nervous breakdown by the excessive demands of the income tax collectors when he was no longer making big money. I happened to meet him at one of the studios and he confided in me, less than a month ago, his fear that he would not be able to pay the heavy back income tax imposed on him.

SNAPSHOTS of Hollywood collected at random: Norma Talmadge and Gilbert Roland calling on John Considine, Jr., to discuss their next picture. George Fitzmaurice getting ready to direct "Sign on the Door." Dorothy Burgess arriving at Bessie Love's party to the accompaniment of makeup on. Lily Damita with hair powdered and in costume, also coming direct from the studio. Mrs. Hal Roach in a stunning period costume at the same party. Mrs. Pye Danielle playing an exciting game of bridge with three other experts. Townsend Netcher and Georgia Eastwood finishing a ten mile match. That's all today. See you tomorrow!

MOLLER'S, INC., EMPLOYES AT REUNION

Amid festive surroundings several hundred employes of Moller's, Inc., furniture stores made merry in the huge banquet hall of the board of trade building, Central sq., Cambridge.

The occasion was the annual reunion of Moller Associates, an organization of employes founded to foster a spirit of brotherhood among the various departments of the company.

Large details of employes from the Lowell and Worcester branches of Moller's attended, besides, of course the entire personnel of store in Central sq., located at 485 Massachusetts ave.

A colorful program, for which lavish preparations had been made by the committee in charge of affairs, greeted the guests. After a dinner there was dancing and an entertainment put on by local stage favorites.

There were addresses by a number of Moller Associates and officials, including President Samuel W. Prussian and General Manager Frank D. Houlihan.

When the party broke up everyone voted it the best of Moller's reunions.

Officers of Moller's Associates constitute the committee in charge of affairs. They are President Irving Tevalof, Vice-President George King and Treasurer A. Robart, all of Cambridge.

The meeting, which was held in the American House, was attended by 30 Boston newspaper photographers, and newsreel men assigned to the New England territory and stationed in this city.

Other officers who were elected for the coming year included: Thomas Watson, Pacific and Atlantic News Photo Service, vice-president; Morris Fineburg, Boston Post, treasurer; Edward Scanlan, Boston Advertiser, secretary; Robson Nelson, assistant treasurer; George Lord, photographer Fore River Ship Yard, assistant secretary.

HUB DOG SHOW IN MECHANICS HALL TODAY

Today marks the opening of the 17th annual Easter Dog Club show at Mechanics Building. The show will run for three days and evenings, during which time 1218 dogs in 64 breeds will be judged.

A great number of the winners at the Westminster show, which have been entered for the eastern affair, have also been shown recently at Newark, New Haven, and at Hartford.

The officers of the Eastern Dog Club have gathered together what they believe is the greatest judging list ever assembled in Boston.

At this show the sporting classes are especially strong. The English setter, The Linnet, owned by Ed Outhet of Suffield, Ct., which won the special for the best setter under control and as having the best nose for following a scent at New York, is entered. She is small and is a dog worth watching.

In the cocker spaniels there is Ch. Lucknow Creme de la Creme, the New York wonder, who has gone best of breed so many times he has forgotten them all, but he will be up against the stiffest opposition of his career right here in Boston and may take his first tumble of his career. O. B. Gilman's dogs have Creme de la Creme worried.

Springer spaniels, a coming breed, larger than the cocker, which can do his work in field and forest and some more besides, are strong at this show. Irish wolfhounds are plentiful, the Russian wolfhound has a large list, wire-haired terriers top the lists in all breeds, and the little cairn, a most useful terrier, is well listed. Richard Stix of Cincinatti is bringing on a string to worry the local entries.

Orpheum Star Duo on WNAC Tomorrow

Popular tunes of the day, sung and played in good harmony, will be broadcast from Station WNAC tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 by Earle and Hell, gifted vaudeville and recording entertainers, who are appearing all this week on the stage of Loew's Orpheum theater.

The boys are excellent harmonizers and guitar players. Their vaudeville tour carries them to practically every important section of the land and they make it a point to broadcast from one station in each city. They are especially well known to radio listeners on the Columbia Broadcasting System.

HILL'S STOPS COLDS IN A DAY

INSURANCE BILL SAVES $9,000,000

Quoting ex-Governor Channing H. Cox, Goodwin read this into the record of the hearing: "If the State is to compel such action (compulsory insurance) then it shou't provide that such policies should be furnished at cost, or it should establish a State fund for this purpose."

Referring to the zone system, whereby in some cases persons living side by side pay widely different rates for their insurance, Goodwin said "The zone system is a piece of nonsense."

"The insurance companies took from us motorists the year $19,000,000 and with the increased rates and the same registration with the year take the sum of $21,000,000 to be exacted.

"I am quite certain that $12,400,000 will be enough to pay all the claims and expenses of running the department under the state fund bill.

"If the state compels its car owners to insure, what excuse can be given by the representatives of the people for permitting them to be gouged out of this tremendous difference between $12,400,000 and $21,000,000?"

His statement, in part, follows:

SITUATION WAS BAD

"Prior to 1927, an intolerable situation prevailed in Massachusetts with reference to the killing and maiming of people on our highways. Only about one-third of the owners of motor vehicles were insured for personal liability, with the result that two-thirds of the thousands killed and injured each year were unable to receive compensation. Thousands of breadwinners were incapacitated and their dependents left without means to live except through charity, or at the expense of cities and towns.

"The Compulsory Insurance Act, so called, was passed to take care of this situation, and, in spite of insurance company propaganda and surface appearances, compulsory insurance has served the purpose for which it was passed.

QUOTES EX-GOV. COX

"Ex-Governor Channing H. Cox, on June 6, 1924, in speaking to the Legislature at prorogation, said:

"I have always believed that the State ought to compel its citizens to purchase insurance policies from liability companies when legislation for such policies involve a considerable payment for agent's commissions. If the State is to compel such action, then it should provide that such policies should be furnished at cost, or it should establish a State Fund for this purpose.'

"Let us glance at the figures reported by insurance companies to the Insurance Commissioner for the year's business of 1927:

Net amount of premiums taken from pockets of car owners $16,806,377

Actually paid out in damages for settlement of 34,958 cases 6,027,849

Amount estimated by companies necessary to pay for 13,531 claims outstanding 5,510,282

Cost to companies to do business 6,502,978

Total cost, actual and estimated $18,140,209

Net profits ..... 16,80..377

The amount they claim they have ..... $1,633,8"3

"The above figures show that the insurance companies took $16,806,377 from motor vehicle owners. They paid out for deaths and injuries only $6,027,849 for 34,958 cases. They want to hold in reserve for the payment of only 13,531 claims, $5,510,282. It cost them to run their business, for commissions, salaries, overhead, etc., $6,502,978 and they actually took in $1,633,832. Therefore they must have an increase in rates.

ZONING "NONSENSE"

"In 1928 there was an increased registration of 67,709 motor vehicles, and if the average premium is $20 per car, as given by Mr. Downs, the representative of the insurance companies, we had added to the $16,800,000 that the insurance companies took in 1927 about $2,000,000, making the amount received for last year $19,000,000. If the registration for 1929 is only the same as 1928, with the increased rates just given by the companies, we shall have an additional $2,000,000 for 1929, making about $21,000,000 that will be taken from the pockets of the motorists of Massachusetts this year.

"The zone system is a piece of nonsense and never should have been permitted by the insurance commissioner when he made up his original rates. He followed the old lead assistance because that was the system that the insurance companies had inaugurated for their own pecuniary benefit.

DISHONEST CLAIMS

"When the State of Massachusetts registers motor vehicles there is no zoning of registration fees and there are no restrictions placed upon owners, in any territory, preventing them from driving into any other territory.

"Under the present law there are millions of dollars being handed out for false claims because there is no provision for immediate investigation except in fatal cases. The law requires the Registrar of Motor Vehicles to investigate every accident resulting in death, and as a consequence there are no fake claims in fatal accidents.

"These companies claim that 48,519 claims for personal injury were made against them, and they settled 34,988, for which they paid the sum of $6,027,849, and had still outstanding 13,531 claims, for which they estimate they would have to pay $5,510,282.

"The difference between the number of accidents reported to the Registrar and the number of claims made to the insurance companies was 16,788, and in all probability at least 10,000 of these were fake claims. Many of them were not reported to the insurance company until weeks after the accidents happened, and by the time a claim agent was sent out to investigate these cases, crooked lawyers and doctors had them all doped up with the result that the insurance companies, who could get no information in most cases, decided to get the matter off their hands.

"It must be apparent from this that the number of fake claims next year and the year after, if the present law continues, will increase tremendously, and as these suit rates will have to be increased each year

REMEDY IN BILL

"The remedy lies in House Bill No. 22. This bill will remedy the abuses before mentioned.

"Lines 8 to 18 establish the State Fund and the Board of Commissioners which shall have charge and control of it.

"Lines 84 to 100 provide for a change in the present law requiring reports of accidents. The amendment in this bill avoids the necessity for an operator to report to the Registrar and requires the report to be made to the police. This amendment should be made, whether this bill passes or not.

"Lines 102 to 117 provide for investigation of personal injury accidents by the investigators under the registry. In my opinion this is the most important section of the whole law. It provides for immediate investigation by a force separate and distinct from the department that will have the power to make settlements. This force is already in existence and should be augmented immediate and 100 per cent investigations now for the safety of the public and punishment of bad actors, but has always been undermanned.

"This bill provides that the expense of investigation be paid in equal shares from the Highway Fund and the Insurance Fund.

$12,400,000 ENOUGH

"At the present time the registry investigators work in co-operation with the police in every city and town. They will be able to get immediate and first-hand information of every accident, both with reference to who is at fault and who is injured, and how much. Under the present law, claim agents from insurance companies do not begin to investigate a large proportion of the accidents until weeks after they happen.

"It ought not to be necessary to argue the value of this provision.

"Lines 144 to 222 set forth the schedule of charges. There are three contribution periods: For cars registered before July 1; from July 1 to October 1; and after October 1. Based on the 1928 registrations, the Registry Department in applying this schedule estimated that approximately $12,400,000 would have been contributed to the State fund last year As stated above, the insurance companies took from motorists last year $19,000,000, and with the increased insurance rates and the same registration will this year (1929) take the sum of $21,000,000.

"I am quite certain that $12,400,000 will be enough to pay all claims and the expense of running the department if the State compels its car owners to insure, what excuse can be given by the representatives of the people for permitting them to be gouged out of this tremendous difference between $12,400,000 and $21,000,000?

"Lines 248 to 275 provide for a temporary loan in case of deficit to be paid back to the Treasury on or before March 1 of the following year The State Fund and its administration will involve nothing on the general taxpayer.

"I think it is safe to say that the State Fund is accepted, will be more than $7,000,000. It is also safe to predict that ever-increasing fake claims will call for an increase in the cost of the year under the present compulsory law.

COURTS CONGESTED

"One of the gravest problems confronting us today is the congestion in our courts caused in the main by automobile litigation.

"The report of the Judicial Council, Public Document No. 144, 1927, of this subject exhaustively. For convenience, I am including in this pamphlet extracts from that report. I am absolutely certain that the State Fund Bill will bring about the remedy the Judicial Council is searching, and I am sure you will be struck by the similarity of our proposed bill for the Compulsory Insurance Act and the advanced in favor of House Bill No. 223.

"The Judicial Council found that there is no valid reason for not passing House Bill No. 223, I know there is a feeling in myself much with the methods of doing business and exorbitant profits, salaries, and cost of overhead of insurance companies.

"Approximately 500,000 citizens of Massachusetts are forced to carry by law a service they do not want. They are ugly about it, and want to be relieved of the burden as soon as and there is bound to be constant agitation and attacks upon the insurance companies. Let us not be hasty to let go of easy money, but it may soon be better to let go of a small part of it than all of it. The lawyers are in the same boat. False claims are bound to increase, and the few relatively crooked lawyers responsible are bound to tear down respect for the whole profession. It is a bad situation all around, and the State Fund is the only remedy."

Legislators Who Will Decide Auto Bill Fate

The members of the Massachusetts joint legislative committee on insurance, which will decide the fate of the Goodwin-Boston Evening American automobile compulsory insurance bill, which provides for a saving of at least $7,500,000 yearly for Bay State car owners, are as follows: Senators C. Wesley Hale, Springfield, advisory, (chairman) Clarence P. Kidder, Cambridge, manufacturer; James G. Moran, Mansfield, attorney; James A. Torrey, Beverly, business; Representatives Eliot Wadsworth, Boston (House chairman), trustee; Alfred W. Ingalls, Lynn, attorney; Benton Whidden, Brookline, real estate; Horace W. Hood, Framingham, retired hardware merchant; Albert F. Bigelow, Brookline, attorney; Clyde H. Swan, Barre, banker; George W. Knowlton, Jr., West Upton, retired; Victor E. Rolander, Worcester, tool and die maker; Thomas S. Kennedy, Boston, salesman; Thomas H. Carr, Boston, telephone engineer, and William P. Corbett, Somerville, attorney.

Prompt Action Needed

Congress Should Adopt at Once the Resolution to Investigate Iniquitous Dope Traffic in U. S.

Both houses of Congress should welcome the opportunity to adopt without delay the joint resolution just reported from the Senate Committee on the Judiciary for the investigation by a joint committee of the two houses of the country-wide traffic in narcotic drugs.

This resolution is sponsored in the Senate by Senator Wheeler, of Montana, and in the House by Representative La Guardia, of New York.

It calls for the appointment of a special committee to consist of two Senators and three Representatives in Congress.

Prompt adoption of this resolution would enable the Congress to drag into the light of day this nefarious traffic which is now carried on all over this country in violation of the laws of God and man.

No argument is needed to convince the Congress and the country that this hideous hawking of "dope" is a curse to the American people and a challenge to the American Government.

Not since 1919 has an inquiry of this sort been conducted by the Federal authorities. In recent years the peddling of dope appears to have grown by leaps and bounds and today constitutes a national menace and a national mortification.

Let the Congress adopt forthwith the Wheeler-La Guardia resolution and we shall be in a fair way to find out how many cowardly rascals, guilty of peddling dope, still walk our city streets unwhipped of justice.

Such an inquiry should also show how many new kinds of narcotic drugs enter into this wicked traffic that have not yet been put under the ban of the law.

Already a House committee has heard unchallenged testimony that our drug addicts are actually responsible for crimes, the money cost alone of which totals five billion dollars every year.

From our prominent physicians comes the declaration that the medical profession, discouraging the use of cocaine, have found non-habit substitutes to be far better for many cases. Yet 34,794 ounces of cocaine are said to have been sold last year with a show of legality.

According to Charles H. Tuttle, United States District Attorney at New York City, both Europe and Asia have dumped narcotic drugs into this country at the rate of between $25,000,000 and $50,000,000 worth through the port of New York alone since last May.

Our Government expended last year $1,400,000 in an attempt to wipe out the secret sale of narcotic drugs.

How much more should be spent for this purpose and how it should be spent a Congressional investigation of the sort which the Wheeler-La Guardia resolution authorizes ought to show.

This investigation has been indorsed by leaders on both sides of the aisle in both houses of Congress. It has the support of all those branches of the Government charged by law with the responsibility of waging unceasing warfare on this illicit and indefensible and indescribably horrible and harmful traffic.

Here is a probe that the whole American people will support.

Because the household of the nation is menaced by this assault upon the public health and challenged by this brazen defiance of popular will.

It was Abraham Lincoln who said that "WITH PUBLIC SENTIMENT, NOTHING CAN FAIL." And public sentiment will insure the triumph of the warfare on the dope traffic if only Congress will fire the opening gun by adopting without delay the Wheeler-La Guardia resolution.

Something With a Kick

There Is PLENTY of It

A REAL KICK—INTO ETERNITY

For something "with a kick in it" try bootleg liquor. Or rather DON'T try it, unless you want the kick to send you from here into eternity.

This excellent little cartoon is printed by Senator Capper, of Kansas, an ardent prohibitionist, in his Capper's Weekly.

Senator Capper believes that the whole world can and must be dry. But some, including bootleggers and a large section of the public, don't agree with him.

Bootleggers believe in prohibition because it gives them a monopoly of the liquor business, and profits of hundreds of millions a year.

Many of the public, not all, fortunately, are foolish enough to drink bootleg liquor.

Those that oppose the kick in this bootleg shoe, feel that prohibitionists have a right to drink water if they choose, but should not prevent others, able to keep sober, from drinking something else.

However, this picture shows the situation AS IT IS today.

Wall Street Flu—

A Doctor a Day Keeps the Patient in the Hay

A Celestial Salvo

By GARRETT P. SERVISS

It is regrettable that more is not known about one of the most remarkable occurrences in the recent history of the earth. I refer to the fall of a gigantic meteorite, or rather a swarm of great meteorites, which happened in northeastern Siberia twenty years ago.

A year or so ago I wrote in this column what little was known of the occurrence, and the latest information about it goes no further than to corroborate the original account, which was almost incredible in its details. Professor Kulik, a Russian scientist who has visited the scene (or a part of it), which lies in a region difficult of access, reports that all animal life, together with all vegetation, was destroyed throughout an area of 2?0 square miles.

That would be a square fifty miles on a side, equal to twice the area of the entire State of Rhode Island! And beyond the area of total destruction, over a radius of a hundred miles—covering more than 60,000 square miles—the primeval forest which clothes that part of Siberia was levelled to the ground.

On the 30th of July, 1908, the earth was struck this tremendous blow. The indications are that it was not a single meteorite, but a salvo of them that fell upon that almost uninhabited region in Siberia. No human eye, as far as is known, witnessed the fall of the meteorites. But the shock was felt hundreds of miles away and recorded by seismographs as far as Irkutsch, 800 miles away.

Natives of that part of Siberia where the blow fell told of flashing lights seen in the daylight sky and tremblings of the earth. Some told of an awful wind which levelled everything in its path, and of the obstruction of a river by rocks and debris of the destroyed forest.

There is only one other instance of the striking of the earth by a gigantic missile from space, leaving a conspicuous mark on its face. That is the case of the Arizona meteorite which bored a great hole in the rocks resembling a volcanic crater, near Canyon Diablo.

But the Arizona missile appears to have been single solid shot, while in the Siberian case it was rather as if the mighty guns of some invisible dreadnaught lying beyond the Blue had been concentrated upon the earth and fired together or in rapid succession.

What is the meaning of this seeming bombardment from space which our planet undergoes?—for smaller missiles of the kind are falling upon the atmospheric shield all the time.

It would be worth while for any person whose mind is moved by intelligent curiosity about the world we live in and the universe that encloses it to pay a visit to the American Museum of Natural History in New York simply for the purpose of studying the huge meteorites that are displayed in its entrance hall.

Look especially at the mighty mass of solid iron that Peary brought from Greenland, where it must have fallen from the sky in ancient, unrecorded time. It weighs more than 36 tons! Think of a gun big enough to hurl a projectile of that size!

But these are not projectiles. They are little planets. Before they hit the earth they travel in orbits around the sun. Their hitting our planet is one of the hazards of their existence, which must be rather monotonous upon the whole.

All the members of the sun's system of attendant bodies "pull and haul" upon one another as they circle around in wavering ellipses, and the meteorites, being very numerous and distributed through the spaces between the planets, are subject to many "perturbations" which result in some of them being brought so near the earth that they fall under the mastery of its attraction and end their careers either by being burnt up in a hot flight through the atmosphere, or by plunging their scorched and fire-gouged bodies into the sea or the dry land.

Fortunately, the number of very massive ones, as well as of those that travel in close companies, is relatively small.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

The title of a book caught my eye the other day—

"GAY COURAGE," it said.

I don't know anything about that book, but I'm for its title a million strong.

I doubt if that title could have happened in the last century. They believed in courage, of course, but it had to be Grim—the Grimmer the better. With a lotta signs of suffering. The uprolled, dampened eye—the painful, indrawn breath—the clinched hand, the gnawed lip—that was the stuff in grandpa's day.

But we're evolving a new morality—and that gallant title is one of its fruits.

BE BRAVE—BUT ACT AS IF YOU LIKED IT!—That's the keynote of the new morality.

BE GOOD—AND SHOW THAT YOU ENJOY IT!

What's the use of righteousness if it makes you act like a dose of hives?

Maybe you'll get your soul saved that way, but how about the other chap? Why take it out on him?

Once upon a time Robert Louis Stevenson made some remarks about this line. If ever a man displayed Gay Courage he did in his desperate fight with tuberculosis. However, his remarks were not particularly popular with his contemporaries. Heavy sacrifice was fashionable at that time. Saved Souls were supposed to be soggy. With all his failing strength, brave R. L. S. fought that sogginess.

"Noble disappointment, noble self-denial," he cried, "are not to be admired, not even to be pardoned, if they bring bitterness. Gentleness and cheerfulness, these come before all morality: they are the perfect duties—if your morals make you dreary, depend upon it they are wrong. I do not say 'give them up' for they may be all you have; but conceal them like a vice, lest they should spoil the lives of better and simpler people."

Sacrifice — suffering — self-restraint — meekness — resignation — patient endurance of tribulation—they were the virtues of yesterday. They were the sour heritage left us by the Puritans, and a sorry mess they made of human life. They made a mess because they fought life. They imprisoned life—those attitudes were really founded on fear. They were not virtues at all—they were blights.

Happiness — self-expression — healthy rebellion — gay courage—these are the virtues of today, and they're making a wonderful adventure of human life. They do not fight life—they increase life. They release life. They give men that "life more abundant" which Christ promised.

"IF YOUR MORALS MAKE YOU DREARY, DEPEND UPON IT, THEY ARE WRONG"—remember that the next time you get all gummed up with righteousness. A smiling sinner is a lot more useful in this vale of tears than a smileless saint.

WORDS OF THE WISE MEN

A benefit is estimated according to the mind of the giver.—Seneca.

That is a good book, it seems to me, which is opened with expectation and closed with profit.—Alcott.

People generally despise where they flatter and cringe before those whom they desire to supersede.—Aurelius.

He who has imagination without learning has wings but no feet.—Joubert.

He who has injured thee was either stronger or weaker. If weaker, spare him; if stronger, spare thyself.—Seneca.

How comes it to pass, then, that we appear such cowards in reasoning and are so afraid to stand the test of ridicule?—Shaftesbury.

The love of history seems inseparable from human nature because it seems inseparable from self-love.—St. John.

An illogical opinion only requires rope enough to hang itself.—Birrell.

A people, it appears, may be progressive for a certain length of time, and then stop. When does it stop? When it ceases to possess individuality.—Mill.

All charming people. I fancy, are spoiled. It is the secret of their attraction.—Wilde.

I don't want to be a doctor, and live by men's diseases; nor a minister, to live by their sins; nor lawyer, to live by their quarrels. I don't see there's anything left for me but to be an author.—Hawthorne.

He who refuses what is just gives up everything to him who is served.—Lucan.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20—New York is taking no chances on out-chicagoing Chicago's boom-boom. A recent order affecting all taxi cabs was convincing enough it was alarmed over gang warfare. Those "necking" taxis with only tiny peephole windows at the side are no longer permitted to roam the highways.

They must have regulation size windows in back and side, so passengers may be seen from the sidewalk. Several machine gun episodes among Broadway racketeers featured the hideaway taxi. After a heavy barrage, the gunmen were able to zip away completely concealed.

Until recently the police gave but little notice to the gangster. He killed only members of rival clans and the police considered it a good riddance of bad rubbish. But not only does the gangster rub outside his own guild; he does not hesitate to murder innocent citizenry in his getaway.

Activities once restricted to the lower East Side have spread to uptown centers, climaxed by several killings in the crowded Times Sq. section. The old-time gangster fought chiefly for neighborhood leadership. The loot consisted in forcing small shopkeepers to buy tickets for phoney balls.

Today they are the polished racketeers, moving about in Tuxedoed elegance, sharing in million dollar spoils of bootlegging, rum running and dope selling. There are any number who make from one hundred thousand to a half-million yearly, actually living in the smooth and valeted ease of the Fashionable Fifties.

The fly-blown barber shop, candy parlor and pool hall rendezvous have been exchanged for the ringside glitter of the smart night clubs with a $5 couvert charge and other prices scaled accordingly. The Johnny Spanishes, Gyp the Bloods, Monk Eastmans and Kid Twists, in sweaters and caps, are gone.

Police say there are at least 20,000 of the new gangsters, who are affable enough until their "territories" are invaded, and then they "hop-up" on dope and their machine guns blaze death and destruction. The most highly coveted bootleg area is east of Fifth ave., between 45th st. and 60th.

THEY whisper of a celebrated man involved in a sinister scandal who showed the white feather and sacrificed the reputation of an innocent wife. He left the country for a few months for things to blow over. Upon his return he visited his club, one of the ancient and starchy shrines of aristocracy. When he passed through the portals, as though by concerted action, every member present put on his hat and coat and walked out. They were followed by the servants. Standing about in the sudden desolation and in utter amazement for a few moments, the unwelcome member finally caught the idea and departed. The servants returned and opened every window as though to cleanse it of a foul atmosphere.

ANOTHER yarn concerns a lady who won a certain eminence in entertainment fields. At her home on Long Island several years ago when she was at the peak of her career she was visited by a group of convivial gentlemen friends. Starting early, they were unable to find flower shops open. So passing along Third ave., they stepped into a funeral parlor and acquired a gates ajar set piece along with several other sombre designs, thinking it a good joke. When they presented them to her, she fell in a swoon and was revived in a state of hysteria. She believed them omens of disaster. And thus they proved. A few weeks later she was involved in a Page One scandal which cost her her fortune and robbed her of popularity.

SANDWICHES named for celebrities, real and near, have been displayed on menus at night haunts for several years, but it was a free will offering, and only recently became a money making racket. A new sandwich salon is charging a $50 fee, and so far has acquired nine customers.

THE newest in concertina opera hats, instead of dull silk, is like the shiny silk plush of the regulation high hat. Even then I wouldn't care for it. I had one once, but in retrieving it from under a theater seat the darn thing bit me.

WILL ROGERS has made a discovery about the ukulele. No one can tell whether you are playing or just monkeying with it.

Meditations of a Wife

By HELEN ROWLAND

The man who claims to know all about women must keep awfully busy changing his mind these days.

The honeymoon is not over until the bride begins to think wistfully of all the things she could do with the alimony he could afford.

With ping-pong back in fashion there now is the bright hope that we may revive some of the other graceful old games, like chivalry, flirtation and coquerry, which made life so much more fun, and love so much more colorful in the pre-Freudian days.

"Just what is today's outstanding problem?" asks a paragrapher. Well—the most outstanding problem we can think of is that straggly little wisp of hair just beginning to "grow out" at the back of a girl's neck.

Many a modern man travels as fast in the pursuit of love, that he whizzes right past it, and ends by either plunging head-first into the arms of the wrong woman, or skidding into a legal entanglement.

When a woman talks darkly of "ending it all," it is usually a sign that some man has just gone out of her life. When a man begins talking like that, it is a sign that there is one woman too many in his life.

When we speak of a man of 48 as "going on 50," and of a woman the same age as "over 40"—that's chivalry!

Under all a modern girl's audacity there is an instinctive feminine delicacy, which she often deliberately outrages in her attempt to appear "broadminded," sophisticated and fashionably hard boiled.

A woman's instinct never fails her. It is only when some man tells her to "try to use a little REASON," that she gets her signals all mixed and takes the wrong turn.
